

MAPPLETON : The unprotected cliffs to the north and south of Mappleton (these are to the south) are composed of soft, unconsolidated, easily eroded boulder clay / glacial till.

These cliffs recede rapidly at up to 3 metres a year. The boulder clay produces little sand so not much beach is retained to absorb wave energy and prevent erosion.

