

Mission Statement

of the

Texas Concrete Pavement Association

The Texas Concrete Pavement Association actively promotes the virtues of quality concrete pavements. The TCPA provides the concrete pavement industry with effective promotional activities, professional technical support, contemporary educational programs, and comprehensive technical literature. These efforts are conducted in cooperation with other organizations that contribute to the continuous improvement of concrete pavement technology.

Our primary purpose is to expand the use of quality concrete pavements in Texas because it is durable, safe, cost-effective and environmentally sound. We nurture and perpetuate the concrete pavement industry in Texas by:

Promoting concrete for highways, streets, airfields and parking areas.

Providing engineers and specifiers with technical information and recommendations that foster the selection of concrete pavements for public and private projects.

Provide our members with technical support and information on the direction our industry is heading.

Initiating educational programs and seminars that cultivate an appreciation for our quality product and expands its use.

Partnering with other organizations to optimize concrete pavement promotional, educational and technical endeavors.

The TCPA is a non-profit organization and was originally chartered in 1986 as the Texas Chapter-ACPA. The elected Board of Directors establishes the goals and objectives of the Association and employs a professional engineer to administer our agenda. The paving contractor members finance the majority of the monetary obligations of the Association through annual dues and volume assessments. Affiliate members provide the much-needed supplementary funding with their annual dues. This additional revenue enhances the scope the Association's promotional, educational and technical programs.

Membership is open to quality oriented concrete pavement contractors, construction materials suppliers, equipment dealers or manufacturers and professional consultants. Your interest in our Association is appreciated and your membership and support is encouraged.
