The Newsletter is Active.

by Kim Whitehead

The newsletter is up and running again. Things at Leisuretime will begin to pick up soon (hurray) and during this time I hope to get a newsletter out more often.

This way I can keep you informed of what is happening in the area and around the park. Much of what is published in the newsletter depends on contributions from you. Anyone who would like to contribute to our newsletter, please send an article, picture or information to ltrvcascade@gmail.com. If you would like to become a regular contributor to the newsletter and have an idea in mind, please let me know. Although we will keep it fun and positive it will also be informative.

Have a very Happy Valentine's Day. Hug someone you love.

This little girl is not a raccoon. She is in the witness protection program so I cannot disclose her actual identity. If you happen to see her during the summer, please don't tell anyone.

In the Spotlight

by Kim Whitehead

During the winter we had a few problems arise that needed some immediate attention. Ron Brown volunteered his help during some of these times. He provided his expertise when it was needed. If you happen to see Ron during an outing in the park, please be sure to give him a big Thank you. It is park members like Ron that help keep our park running smoothly. Thanks Ron

SNOW IN CASCADE

This year we have received a fair amount of snow in Cascade. The good news is we need it and it will certainly help with the water levels.

The bad news is; I personally might not get to Cascade to start relaxing as soon as I did last year.

Sales of park lots and park models

by Kim Whitehead

This past year has been busy within our park and we should see many new faces this summer. For anyone who is new to our park “Welcome” I hope you enjoy the park as much as my husband and I do.

We have many great people in our park and amenities that we take pride in. You can enjoy a swim in the pool or a relaxing soak in the hot tub. Don't forget about taking a nice stroll along the ponds or along the strand.

For those of you who bought lots and park models if you are wanting to make improvements don't forget to take a look at the CC&R's beforehand. When purchasing your lot or park model you should have received a copy and if you didn't please get in touch with a board member so that they can help you out. The CC&R's will give you the information needed on what you can do when bringing in your park model or RV, what your setbacks need to be and how big the park model can be. We also have forms that must be filled out and sent in for approval. We want your experience at Leisuretime to be a fun and happy experience. Don't hesitate to get in touch with Board Volunteers if you need any help. If they don't have the answer for you they can send you in the right direction. As far as forms that you might need they can be found in the clubhouse. If they have run out, please let us know and we will get it fixed.

As I side note to everyone. Please don't forget that the permits you send in and apply for have an expiration date. If your project isn't completed after 120 days, you must reapply.

FOR MORE INFORMATION

Please take a look at the website for Mcpaws. If you aren't familiar with Mcpaws it is the animal shelter in McCall, Idaho. They even have a thrift store. They are looking for volunteers or even donations to the store. All proceeds to the thrift store help the animals and are tax deductible. If you can't give of your time but are able to donate, they can always use your help. Don't forget to look at the adoptable animal's as your best friend may be waiting for you.

Beavers in our Park

by Kim Whitehead

At the end of the season last year we got quite the surprise when Beavers decided to invade the park. We lost a few trees and had to start wrapping trees to try and deter these pesky guys. Notices were put up on our website to try and let everyone know just in case they might have trees that needed attention. At right are a couple of pictures of the damage that they caused in the park. It has been an exciting year.

Side Note:

The Board Members found that when they needed to contact someone due to an issue (snow damage, tree damage etc.) They didn't have a correct phone number or email in some cases. Please take the time to update your information or send it to the ltrvcascade@gmail.com email and I will forward it on. If an issue is noticed they would rather contact you and save you from a surprise on your first visit. Thanks

Beavers

These aren't the actual Beavers that were in the park. These guys are stunt doubles.

Editor's Note

This past year has been an interesting and challenging one for us. I convinced my husband to run for the Board of Directors and he won. This is good as he has really enjoyed working on all the things that help to improve our park and make it great. The bad news, he has a tendency to put the park first and forget that he has duties around the house. Our house will probably collapse around us and he won't notice because he will be busy with our vacation home. The good news.....When the house does collapse we will have a wonderful place to go to in Cascade.

I hope everyone has had a wonderful winter and I apologize for not getting this out sooner but I am a bit technically challenged and my last computer committed suicide. The new computer has different programs and is possibly possessed. It seems to have a mind of its own and doesn't really listen. Almost like a husband. My goal (if my computer will cooperate) is to try and get a newsletter out every 4 to 6 weeks beginning in April. This would continue until the end of the season around Sept. Then try to get a newsletter out a couple of times during the off season. If anyone would like to be a part of the newsletter, please contact me at ltrvcascade@gmail.com. The more volunteers we get the more diverse our newsletter.

Otherwise as you can see from the picture to the right. You will be subjected to my grandchildren and dogs. Hey, I'm okay with that as I can talk (a lot) and I love to show off pics of my grandbabies and pets. (I think they are all pretty darn cute.)

I look forward to hearing from you and especially look forward to seeing everyone this summer.
