Abstract

A growing number of intracellular signaling molecules are found associated with components of the cellular protein folding machinery. In this minireview we suggest that the same ancient cellular process that promotes the folding and assembly of nascent proteins plays a pivotal role in signal transduction by promoting the regulated folding or assembly and disassembly of mature signaling molecules between active and inactive states. Members of the protein folding machinery mediate the activity of various kinases, receptors, and transcription factors. These may be poised in late stages of folding or assembly until upstream signaling events trigger their biogenesis into activated molecules.

Press Release

7 October 2015

The Royal Swedish Academy of Sciences has decided to award the Nobel Prize in Chemistry for 2015 to

Tomas Lindahl

Francis Crick Institute and Clare Hall Laboratory, Hertfordshire, UK

Paul Modrich

Howard Hughes Medical Institute and Duke University School of Medicine, Durham, NC, USA

and

Aziz Sancar

University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, NC, USA

"for mechanistic studies of DNA repair"

The cells' toolbox for DNA repair

The Nobel Prize in Chemistry 2015 is awarded to Tomas Lindahl, Paul Modrich and Aziz Sancar for having mapped, at a molecular level, how cells repair damaged DNA and safeguard the genetic information. Their work has provided fundamental knowledge of how a living cell functions and is, for instance, used for the development of new cancer treatments.

Alternating Frequencies forming a bio-language

Neurofrequency Transmission

- Transmission from the outside to the inside of our bodies is completed by:
  - 1. Via ultra low energies at which the electron controls the ion gates of the cells to pass through the outside biosimilar waveform signals
  - 2. Via voltage driven waveform signals

1. VIA ULTRA LOW ENERGIES (below thermal noise)

At very low energies in the nanorange electrons RESONATE & amplify the energy of Ion Channels by increasing or decreasing the height of the energy at the gating cavity in this Ion Channel

2. VOLTAGE DRIVEN WAVEFORM SIGNALS

Voltage Driven Neurofrequency started with the Pacemaker to replace the function of damaged pacemaker cells

It was later extended to Multiple Sclerosis by Gerry Pollock the co-inventor of the Pacemaker in London University to replace the function of damaged motor nerves

How does Effortless Exercise burn up to 5,000 calories in one treatment

- Compact one month of exercise in the Gym in ONE HOUR...
- In one hour, perform One Thousand FULL CONTRACTION sit ups each lasting for four seconds
- During sit ups the body secretes the hormones that burn the fat as an energy source to build the muscle
- The brain keeps pumping hormones that burn fat to build the muscle constantly throughout these 1000 sit ups
- Result? You get the fitness and calorie burning you would get after doing 1000 situps, which is up to 5,000

THE VIRTUAL GYM DOES THAT IN ONE TREATMENT SO THAT'S HOW IT BURNS UP TO 5,000 CALORIES. NORMALLY YOU WOULD NEED AT LEAST A MONTH IN THE GYM TO PERFORM 1000 SITUPS

Case Study 1

A 45 year old lady suffering from severe obesity & diabetes mellitus. She was an athlete in college but gained weight after 2 pregnancies. She developed diabetes at age of 39 & by the time she came to Slim Express she had very poor control of diabetes even on insulin & she also had fatty deposits in her liver( Fatty Liver).

She was quite fit & healthy till age of 25; but gained weight after 2 pregnancies. She developed slip disc & was advised to lose weight. She had tried yoga & healthy diet but without any results. When she came to Slim Express she was diagnosed to have Insulin Resistance ; also called as Pre-diabetes; a condition which can lead to diabetes if not treated.

	Before treatment	After treatment

Case Study 2

42 year old gentleman had a controlled lifestyle till age of 35 with regular exercise & healthy diet. He had a late marriage at 35 & after that had a sudden bout of weight gain. At 40 developed hypertension & was started on medication for that. Being alert about his health he immediately started diet control, yoga & walking; but no avail. Visited many slimming centers & tried many alternative therapies without any result. When he came to Slim Express doctors recommended him 15 treatments.

	Before treatment	After treatment
Weight (kg)	98	89

Sagging Breasts

Problems with Exercise:

Muscle development occurs after several months of exercise, and building breast muscles is rather difficult

Virtual Gym Solution:

Targeted treatment will build muscle and LIFT BREASTS within one month of Effortless fitness

Sweating

- Postpartum sweating at night after giving birth. This is because your body needs to get rid of all the extra fluids it accumulated during your pregnancy
- This can be helped by undergoing some Virtual Gym Detoxification Treatments

Incontinence

A precursor of the Virtual Gym, the MaxiMyo, built in London University by the same Scientist as the Virtual Gym, Gerry Pollock* was cleared in the UK in 2008 as a class II device for incontinence.

In clinical studies women with incontinence received 10 sessions of treatment without diuretics, exercise of other life change methods. Subjects experienced an improvement with their incontinence without any intrusive interventions.

* Gerry Pollock is the co-inventor of the First Pacemaker in London University and a Pioneer in Ultra Violet Light

Energy Levels Felling Sluggish and Moody

Clinical Evidence suggests that even a SINGLE treatment with the Virtual Gym UNBLOCKS YOUR ENERGY CHANNELS making you feel more energetic.

HISTORY:

Wilhelm Reich, a member of the second generation of psychoanalysis after Sigmund Freud, postulated that all psychological disturbance is the result of blocked energy flow and that unblocking our energy fields is the only path to mental and physical health

Chi (Universal Life Force Energy) has been written about and studied for over ten thousand years, from China and Japan to India, the Hawaiian Islands and South America. Chi is the energy of life itself, recognized as the balance of Yin and Yang (male and female, positive and negative, electromagnetic energy), which flows through everything in creation.
