Customer quote: "this organization has truly been a blessing to me and my family. My husband or should I say boyfriend is now working and supporting me and my children and we now have a car."

"You can't do somethings alone and we all will need help at one time or another in our lives. In this life you will have hardships and problems . Accept the things you can't change, change the things you can, get help when you really need it and ask God to give you the wisdom to distinguish the differences."
