

Resource List: There are so many ways to get politically active – here are just a few ideas . . .

Rivertowns Activists (Facebook group)

Formed by local Dobbs Ferry residents after the Women’s March on Washington to stay connected, share ideas, support our efforts and provide information. It is a closed group, so if anyone wants to join send your name to Donna Cassell (dmcassell@aol.com).

Westchester Women’s March (Facebook group)

This group is intended for women and men who would like to plan, host, and/or attend meet ups and events to further the Women's March movement.

Up2us (Facebook group)

Up2Us envisions an America where individuals are represented fairly and treated with kindness and respect. Up2Us seeks to empower and support all Americans by driving political and social change to build a brighter future for all.

Pantsuit Nation - NYC Metro Westchester Chapter (Facebook group)

Sister District Project SisterDistrict.com

These are dangerous times that demand resistance. But if you live in a solidly blue (or red) place, you might feel frustrated trying to figure out what you can do to fight back. The Sister District Project can help you find a place to channel your blue energy where it will actually make a difference. When you join the Sister District Project, you will be matched with a strategic, winnable race that needs your support.

Countable Download the app

Countable makes it quick and easy to understand the laws Congress is considering. They also streamline the process of contacting your lawmaker, so you can tell them how you want them to vote on bills under consideration.

MoveON.org MoveOn is the largest independent, progressive, digitally-connected organizing group in the United States. Launched in 1998, MoveOn pioneered online organizing and advocacy techniques that have become standard in politics, nonprofits, and industry in the U.S. and worldwide.

<http://emilyslist.org/> We ignite change by getting pro-choice Democratic women elected to office.

Indivisible Guide: IndivisibleGuide.com

Former congressional staffers reveal best practices for making Congress listen. They also have link to local groups.

UltraViolet: <https://weareultraviolet.org/about-us/>. UltraViolet is a powerful and rapidly growing community of people from all walks of life mobilized to fight sexism and expand women’s rights, from politics and government to media and pop culture. UltraViolet works on a range of issues including health care, economic security, violence, reproductive rights, racial justice, and immigration by putting the voices of all women, especially women of color and LGBTQ women, front and center.