What's Been Happening?

The little scientists in our class studied "owls" and "bats". Owls and bats are both nocturnal creatures, which means they come out to eat and play at night. Even though both owls and bats can fly, owls are birds, and bats are animals, the only mammals that can truly fly. Owls have hair around their eyes that they can move to focus sound into their ear cavities, helping them to locate prey when it's dark. We have learned the different names of owls, such as, the "Barn Owl", "Screech Owl", "Spotted Owl", and the "Great Horned Owl".

Best wishes,
Mrs. Buckner

It's December! What Are We Going To Do?

Our little chefs will be baking gingerbread muffins and decorating gingerbread men. Not everyone loves the smell of gingerbread, so we will take turns sniffing ginger to decide if it "smells good" or "stinks".
Happy Holidays
