A sermon on legs

I'd rather see a sermon
than hear one any day:
I'd rather one would walk with me
than merely tell the way.

The eye's a better pupil,
and more willing than the ear.
Fine council is confusing,
but example's always clear.

BUMBLE BEE BALLS

Make these yummy treats
as a summer snack.

What you need:

- 1 cup peanut butter
- 1½ oz. instant oats
- ¼ cup honey
- ½ cup instant milk powder
- ½ cup dark chocolate chips
- 40 mini chocolate chips
- 20 slivered almonds
- 40 sliced almonds
- Adult help

What you do:

1. In a bowl, mix peanut butter, oats, honey and instant milk powder into dough. If too dry, add more peanut butter or honey.
2. Roll dough into 20 long balls. Place them on a cookie sheet and refrigerate.
3. Melt the dark chocolate chips and place them in a zippered baggie. Cut a tiny bit off one corner.
4. Remove dough from refrigerator. Squeeze thin lines of chocolate as stripes onto the bee bodies.
5. Use two mini chocolate chips for eyes, a slivered almond for a stinger and two sliced almonds as wings. Enjoy!

Pastor's message..

August 2018 Gratitude for Summer...

1st Thessalonians 5:16-19 "Rejoice always, pray without ceasing, give thanks in all circumstances; for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus for you. Do not quench the Spirit."

Soon we will begin to hear choirs of geese singing as they fly overhead - working on their migration "practice runs" over the lake. A few days ago, I went out for my usual morning trek, and found that I needed to keep my sweatshirt on throughout the whole jaunt. The foggy chill that morning gave a hint to how quickly this summer has rushed past me.

There are moments in life so sweet and full of warmth, that come too quickly and are gone too fast, just like summer. If I could, I'd attach all the lovely things about our swift summer to a cozy sweatshirt, just so I can 'wear' balmy, sun-filled days - even in the midst of February's-multi-layered-clothing-bone-cold-chill. Yes, winter is coming; but not before the beauty, color, and crunchy leaf-walking fall has its bold and glowing say. There are loves and dislikes to every season and here are just a few things I'd place on my likes and rather not for summer 2018...

Summer things I'd not rather not attach to this season:

Temps so high, that sweat runs down the back of the leg and into the crook of my knees, days too busy to get outside and play, saying no to the ELCA Youth Gathering because other work needed to be done, too little time to read good books and a wonky knee cap that kept jogging at bay.

Summer things I'll cherish: S'more making with chocolate in place of the graham crackers, a weed pulling race with my grandson, family adventures, reading a few wonderful gems of books, time with new and old friends, saying yes to Orchard Park Presbyterian Youth to come and serve the Jamestown community for their work camp, a dog that is as happy with long morning walks as she was fast runs, Scrabble games with Reese's pieces, and many good night's sleep thanks to the new a/c in my bedroom window-making it chilly enough for wrapping up in a comforter.

The practice of practicing gratitude helps me to pay attention to all aspects of each day. Gratitude helps me: to relish drinking cold tea on the hottest of summer days, spotting the joyful dance of fireflies during an evening walk, eating up delicious drips of ice cream that has gotten away from the little person holding a melty cone. In all things I give thanks. Even for wonky knees – that help me slow down to see and pick the wild flowers that I'd otherwise run by in a rush. For geese singing in chorus that remind us that cooler days are coming soon. For the needs of our hearts and lives – that call me to ask for help. In all these things and more, I give thanks.

Seasons come and go and practices of gratefulness help me to see, hear and say what I'm thankful for. God help us to wear gratitude, like a cozy sweatshirt, that has the power to warm our hearts in all seasons.
