Notes, Reminders & Tips

Child Car Seat Laws in Colorado

Children must be restrained in boosters -- or other appropriate child car seats -- until they reach the age of 8 years old. Parents searching for an appropriate child safety seat to meet the requirements in Colorado need to make sure the car seat matches the child's weight, height and age:

- 1 through 3 years old and at least 20 lbs.: Forward-facing seat in the back seat of the vehicle.
  - Your child should remain in the forward-facing seat only until they reach the upper weight limit set by the car seat manufacturer.
- 4 through 7 years old: Booster seat.
- Beginning at 8 years old: Standard vehicle safety belt.
  - While CO law allows children to use a standard seat belt at 8 years old, it is recommended that you wait until your child is at least 4 ft 9 inches before transitioning to a seat belt, to avoid injury in case of an accident.
