

You've got connections.

Thanks to an intelligent interface that can communicate with most building and home control systems, QMotion® QConnect allows you to sync your shades with your home automation systems. The result is the ultimate in convenience and flexibility. But that's not all, QConnect also features:

- 15 channels so you can control as many shades or groups of shades as you desire.
- Compatible with most interfaces, including the RS232, RS485 or Dry Contact serial.
- 9V DC power supply or power over CAT 5.
- Desk or wall mountable, so it's simple to access.
- Up to 50 feet of radio range for even more flexibility. (Actual range varies in each installation, and many factors can cause results to be lower.)

Automation is meant to make your life easier, so take full advantage with the system designed to sync your home, and your daily life, with QMotion® QConnect.

QMotion® shades work easily with most major home automation systems.
