

The 5 Ways You Can Recession Proof Your Business Today!

Dear Entrepreneur,

It's no great surprise that this has been a tough year for many businesses. Yet, for those who are using direct response marketing, they've managed to hold their own and even increase their profits this year. How is it that a business could manage to increase their profits in such a down economy? Simply put, they're using some proven tactics that have worked for countless other businesses, and the good news is that these same tactics will also work for you.

Here are 5 Ways You Can Recession Proof Your Business Today:

- 1) Ask & Get Referrals – This is THE quickest, easiest and least expensive way for you to increase your business today. Do you have a referral program in place? This is key, being able to communicate to them and ask them for referrals of their friends and colleagues. And why not give them something in return. How much is a new client worth to you? Give them a gift card, or donate money to their favorite charity. I've worked with many clients to create proven referrals systems that work to keep their funnels constantly filled with fresh hot new leads.
- 2) Communicate Regularly With Your Current Clients & Prospects – How often do you communicate with your clients and prospects? You need to at least communicate with them once a month. I'd recommend 4 times a month or 52 times a year. Communicate with them in a variety of ways, not just through email which can be easily deleted. In your communications give away tons of value and periodically promote something. You can add new services or new products. If they've already bought from you and had a great experience, chances are, they will buy from you again and again! There are many ways to communicate with your clients. I've helped many people, for example, create monthly printed newsletters, email campaigns, direct mail campaigns, and much more.
- 3) Make A Sale To Get A Client for Life – Your sole focus in your business ought to be to make a sale to get a client and keep him/her for life. Make your business about your client relationships rather than your products. The more you connect with your clients and prospects and build that relationship, the more likely they will be to keep doing business with you over time.
- 4) Survey Your Clients & Prospects – This is a fantastic way to get at the pulse of who you are selling to and what are their biggest challenges they're facing. I've used this one a lot in working with my clients. It's really key to be able to put a survey together and find out what the biggest issues are of your clients and prospects and you can use this in creating products, improving your marketing, getting testimonials, etc. For more information on how to do surveys: www.CreateAmazingSurveys.com
- 5) Use Proof In Your Marketing – Nobody can sell you better than other people who've bought and used your products or services. All of your marketing and advertising online and offline should have at least two or three testimonials or many more in them. I've worked with many clients over the years and have developed some great testimonial forms and systems to use to tailor to any business.

Just implementing one of these ideas will help you increase your business and recession proof it for life. So don't wait, write out your plan now to use some of these ideas in your business today!

If you liked these ideas and want to discover more, I work with many clients to create their very own Marketing Road Map to Riches Plan. This map is a detailed plan like a treasure map that will give you exactly what you need to do (or give to your virtual assistant to do) in order to grow and increase your business. It's kind of like finding buried treasure in your business. Here's what one of my clients had to say about working with me and receiving their very own personalized Marketing Road Map:

"I was hesitant about spending the money do the Marketing Road Map. I run a painting business on Cape Cod, so I wasn't sure there would be a lot of value in it for me. However, I know Shannon. She's in my mastermind group, so I plunked down the money. I have to say I was amazingly surprised at how thorough the questions were and how detailed her marketing road map was for my business. She basically handed me a marketing plan that I took and used for my business, with tons of ideas, resources, and even how to implement them! I doubled my business and also learned how to effectively continue a great marketing plan. It was totally worth every penny." Richard Grimm, CEO, Integrity Painting Company, West Barnstable, MA

"Here's what some of my clients had to say about working with me and receiving their very own personalized Marketing Road Map:

"I heard Shannon's interview on Jim Palmer's monthly call -- wow I was blown away with all her ideas for marketing your business!!! So I signed up for her marketing Road Map for 2 of my businesses and I was thrilled with the results. She really takes her time going over all aspects of both of my businesses. Then she put together a thorough marketing plan that I can now take and just run with. She gave me not just ideas, but how to do it and what resources to use. She knows her stuff to help info marketers and internet marketers. This was definitely worth more than the $997. Hurry and do one for your business before she raises her prices!
