Auburn Winds Presents Our Winter Concert

Auburn, California – January 21, 2018 – Auburn Winds, Auburn’s official town band, invites you to their Winter Concert. Under the direction of Dr. Matthew Morse, the band will perform a variety of music Sunday, February 25, at 3:00 PM at the historic State Theater/Auburn Placer Performing Arts Center, 985 Lincoln Way, Auburn. As always, admission is free. Donations are always welcome and can be made during the concert.

Morse said “the band has been looking forward to our next concert. We always enjoy playing at the State Theater. It’s a great venue for us, and the audiences are great. They really appreciate the band and the music. For this concert, we have a variety of music planned, with pieces from the movies, Broadway, Opera, 70s Rock, and of course a rousing Sousa march. Mixed in with those are pieces you may not know by name, but we’re sure you will enjoy. Composers include James Swearingen, Ralph Vaughan Williams, Malcolm Arnold, Meredith Wilson, and Wolfgang Mozart. It’s a great mix. This concert begins our 2018 performance line-up and we’re excited to get started” he added.

Auburn Winds is a 40-member community concert band with a long-standing history. A community band has existed in Auburn for more than 150 years, and the band is proud to carry on that tradition. Performances are presented several times a year, and include four, FREE formal concerts at the Auburn State Theatre. The band, and its small ensembles, also participate in many community events each year. Upcoming performances:
