C Of C Takes Another Step To Combat Water Pollution

The Dorval Chamber of Com-merce has this week taken another The Dorval Chamber of Commerce has this week taken another step in its campaign to combat the pollution of the waters of the Octawa and St. Lawrence Rivers which contaminate our shores. It was announced that a telegram addressed to the Premier of the Province had been composed and that the Chamber's committee on water pollution will now solicit all Dorval residents to have their signatures appear on it. Letters are being mailed to all residents including a draft of the telegram and explaining how citizens may express their agreement with its terms.

Mr. Roy Amaron, deputy chairman of the committee, commented that: "If the signatures of a good percentage of the population of Dorval are appended to this telegram, the Premier will have real evidence of the feeling of our citizens who now suffer from the lacked government supervision and con-

Manager.

Allan Capel, President of the Dorval Chamber, expressed his pleasure at the way in which people all over the Province were showing their opposition to the pollution of our waters. "This telegram will provide the people of Dorval with an excellent way to add their names to the growing list of interested persons who are speaking out against the dumping of raw sewage in our lakes and rivers", he said.

Dorval Leaders For Red Feather Meet

Red Feather Meet

Every contribution is necessary to put the Red Feather drive over the top Mrs. Harold Standfield, 30 Claremont Avenue, Lakeside, Chairman of the Lakeshore area, told a meeting of Dorval region leaders at a meeting held at the home of Mrs. T. Donald A. Dow, 47 Allard Street, Dorval, Regional Chairman for Dorval, last week.

Mrs. Stanfield stressed that the Lakeshore campaign had special significance for housewives because it enabled them to make their contribution to the campaign and fulfilled the ideal of Red Featherwhich is that it is a drive which benefits everyone and to which everyone should give.

Present at the meeting which outlined duties of chairmen in the fall drive were Mrs. E.W. Horwood 8 - 5th Avenue, Dorval; deptuy chairman for Dorval region; Mrs. A. Schwartz, 1 - 2nd Avenue, Dorval; Mrs. J.L. Hall, 214 St. Leon, Dorval; Mrs. J.F. Hall, 214 St. Leon, Dorval; Mrs. J.C. F. Hiltz, 640S Cote de Liesse, Dorval; and Mrs. D. It seems completely out of character with the old London of uniformly low buildings that was so familiar to visitors. More skyscrapers are planned.

The Commonwealth Conference on Parliamentary Practice which I am attending has representatives from no less than twenty-five different states of the Commonwealth of Nations, which has emerged from the old British Empire. These emergent nations are in various stages of progress and independence and their leaders are a fascinating lot of men. The vast majority of them are extremely well-educated and it has been a most informative experience for me to discuss with them the many problems that face our rapidly expanding brotherhood of nations.

There is something utterly fantastic in this thin thead which brings together in Westminster Palace such diverse interests as those of Aden and Australia, Basutoland and Canada, Ghana and Gilbralter, Kenya and Malaya, Nigeria and Samoa, India and the West Indies – to mention only a few of this amazing assortment of peoples.

No city in Canada is better equipped to serve its shoppers. Everything from a teething ring to the latest model car is just a hop, skip and a jump away from wherever you live in Canada's Garden City — and better still, prices are lower while quality is top flight whether you patronize one of the two magnificent shopping centres or the enterprising corner merchant.

And remember: When you shop in Dorval you strike a blow for the individual taxpayer, yourself. Business and sales taxes make up a considerable portion of the City's revenue, and the more sales your local merchant makes, the better off the Dorval taxpayer will be in the long run. Make 1960 a "Shop in Dorval" year. Save money - save time - and, best of all, patronize the man who takes a personal interest in seeing that you get full value for your consumer dollar: The Dorval Merchant.

NO SHORTS ALLOWED. Did you know that the wearing of shorts is permitted only on private property in Dorval. be asked about such a law. Is the shopping centre area considered private property? Does the ruling apply to men and women? If it applies only to women — when does one cease to be a girl of shorts wearing age? And with so many various types of clothing in vogue in the 'slacks to short-shorts gamut' isn't it going to require rather discerning policemen? This law may be somewhat like the ruling printed on the back of tickets sold at a popular beach on Ile Bizard within the last few years. The ticket entiled the bearer to the use of a picnic table but 'the wearing of bathing suits is forbidden!''

AN INTERESTING PROJECT is underway in the Catholic Schools in Dorval. The School Commission has engaged the services of "The Cooperative Service for Vocational Guidance" to survey the students of Grade Seven. The pupils have attended three Saturday seasions to take intelligence, personality, and aptitude tests, and for personal interviews. Parents will attend sessions to discuss results of the tests with the counsellors. This service, newly organized in Montreal, is pioneering in the growing field of Vocational Guidance. Its Counsellors hold degrees in Arts and Science and have done post graduate work in Guidance. It is their aim to train Guidance workers who will find scope for their work within the next few years in the modern school system.

BELL RINGERS. Residents in Westmount have been complaining about the ringing of church bells early in the morning. Mrs. A. Traeff, Dorval resident who returned from Venezuela where her husband is working on an engineering project. has an interesting story about church bells. Out in the country where they were living near Sarara, the congregation of the local church is surveyed by the pastor and if any parishioners are missing, the bells are rung until the trady ones arrive — it sometimes takes some ringing!

scheme to assist in the education of underprivileged gifted boys of the city.

Father Brault visited various Choir Schools on the continent, studied their methods, and started his achool in a large old house near the Cratory, "Le Manoir." The first class taken into Le Manoir consisted of 20 boys selected from orphanages. The boys were tested for intelligence and musical ability. Subsequent selections have been made from promising boys from poorer homes in the city. Teachers have been hired and the school day is divided into approximately three hours of regular classwork and two hours of music each day. The musical training is intensive and unique. The boys learn to read music and followrigid choir routine. The devotion of "The Little Singers of Mount Royal," superbly trained and disciplined choir singers, shows in the undivided attention they give to Father Brault as they sing.

In the boarding school every effort is made to keep the atmosphere homelike: the boys have pets, cats, dogs and squirrels and have leisure time to spend at games. The regular holiday times such as Christmas and Easter are the busiest for them with heavy singing assignments at the Oratory, and their vacations are governed accordingly.

The School Commission gives some financial assistance to the school, However, many of the things Father Brault has wanted for the boys he has obtained through his own initiative.

Emergency Aid

A young Nova Scotian will never forget the Lachine General Hospital. In April he hitchiked from his home to a small Ontario town his home to a small Ontario town to visit his uncle.

On the return journey his feet became sore and swollen. An empty pocket book added to his worries. A motorist who saw him sitting disconsolately on Metropolitan Boulevard, near Lachine stopped to make inquiries. He quickly recognized the need for immediate medical aid and drove the twenty-three year old to the Lachine General Hospital Emergency Department.

Lachine General Hospital Emergency Department.

There a doctor treated the sore feet and told the twenty-three year old patient he could not expect to reach home on foot. A call was made to a member of the Hospital's Women's Auxiliary. Members immediately provided socks, shoes and badly needed shirts. Then they called the Travellers' Aid in Montreal which arranged transportation to the boy's home.

treal which arranged transportation to the boy's home.

This is only one of dozens of instances of calls to the hospital for temergency aid. Some days more than twenty patients are treated. Saturdays are peak days but, because of insufficient space, many patients have to wait. This lack of space is one of many reasons why Lachine General Hospital is shortly inauqurating a campaign for $1, inaugurating a campaign for $1, 800,000.00 to finance the Expansion Program, which includes plans for increasing the number of beds by eighty percent and for interior extensions and remodelling in the present building.

That power has very frequently lain in the hand of the playwright who in satirical comedy has caused us to laugh at our own foibles, and has gained in his own laughter a sense of relief which he could get in no more acceptable way.

M. His play, "Chambre 110" won the Western Quebec Regional Festival as the best play in the alternate language, and the leading lady of the play, Elisabeth Chouvalidze who played Marie, won acclaim as the best actress. What more could an author ask of his first play? At its presentation in the Drama Festival in March at La Comedie Canadienne by La Compagnie Pierre Patry, the Montreal Critics described "Chambre 110" as "delightful and hilarious" and the author as "a craftsman and an artist, free, yet disciplined."

I asked M. Bobet what "Chambre 110" was about. "It is about chuvinism — intense nationaistic feeling," he answered. It must have been with some hesitation that M. Bobet, an outlander, decided to find the answer to the question: "Can Canadians laugh at themselves?" He has found the answer, a triun had that keen sense of balance coupled with perceptive understanding which could tickle Canadians just in the right place. He himself says that 'Chambre 110''s saving grace is that it is a comedy. Briefly the plot concerns itself with French and English Canadian guests at a Laurentian summer hotel who find themselves occupying the same room. Tempers flare and each party retires to an adjoining room leaving chambre 110, a norman's land between them. Love triumphs over politics when a third visitor moves in.

land between them. Love triumphs nover politics when a third visitor M. Bobet is reluctant to discuss the singular position of the French-from France immigrant to Quebec, though hedraws a parallel between him and the English Immigrant from the U.K. totherest of Canada. Wittly, he drew as little word sketch of the Polish immigrant in New York struggling with his slight knowledge of English to make himself understood sufficiently to get the basic requirements of life. 'He can make very few mistakes,' said M. Bobet, 'Because his knowledge of the language is not sufficient to make them.' The first generation Canadian from whatever country can and must adapt, thinks lacques Bobet, but he cannot be assimilated. Indeed it would be a loss to our country if he could be.

The best of the past, and the present for the future - that is the administrative theme of the National Union on the eve of another provincial general election.

Quebec's highly-successful policies of autonomy and expanding economy lead onward and upward unbroken under three great leaders.

As always, each citizen shares in the brilliant future, based on effective guarantees of the National Union that leave no room for doubt in the minds of the electors on June 22nd.

Here the 'big 3' of the National Union are caught by the camera in Ottawa in '55 — officially representing the province at an intergovernmental conference where they stood, shoulder to shoulder, defending the constitutional rights of Quebec, and of every other Canadian Province.

At the time no one suspected for a moment that the Honourable Maurice Duplessis, premier of Quebec and leader of the National Union, had with him a pair of ministers who in such short time would be called upon to succeed him in the two posts, and to take up the fight for provincial rights, liberties and prerogatives as well as for administrative autonomy and provincial sovereignty...so essential to the progress and development of every province, and of Quebec in particular.

Vote for GUY PAGER

OFFICIAL NATIONAL UNION CANDIDATE

For Positive Action in Jacques Cartier County!

THE MAN FOR THE JOB

The National Union standard bearer in Jacques Cartier this forthcoming Provincial Election is Guy Pager, well-known Dorval lawyer.

Guy Pager has been a resident of the Lakeshore community since the end of the Second World War. After a distinguished army career, at war's end he was O.C. No. 4 Vocational Training School at St. Jerome. He later pursued his legal profession and in the past fifteen years has become one of the best known lawyers in the country.

While representing the City of Dorval, and other Quebec Municipalities in legal matters he has gained a thorough background in the affairs and needs of the communities of the county.

He is Chairman of the Dorval Catholic School Commission and Vice-Chairman of the Federation of Catholic School Commissions in the Province.

Guy Pager is completely bilingual. He understands the needs of the entire county.

He is the father of three youngsters and lives at 80 Ballantyne Terrace, Darval.

His family is also well known—his father is the Honorable Victor Pager, Justice of the Superior Court.

THE JOB TO BE DONE

Clean up of polluted waters. A strong voice is a must if this county is to ever enjoy natural waterways and beaches. To clean up our polluted waters, we need assistance for our towns and cities to build the needed sewage treatment plants. The voice of Guy Pager will speak up on our hehalf!

Education Grants. Our school boards need enormous sums of money to keep up with our growing population. Guy Pager, with his own personal knowledge of educational needs, will speak up and get the necessary grants for our school boards.

Highways. A vote for Guy Pager is a vote for Provincial assistance in the building of the Metropoliton Boulevard . . . for the improvement of the existing Lachine-Ste. Anne's highway. Guy Pager has studied the needs of the communities along this highway and recommends the completion of service roads on both sides of the existing roadway, and a properly engineered cloverleaf traffic interchange at Dorval. Guy Pager also stands for the improvement of other Provincial roads in the county: Cate Vertu, Bais Franc, Sources and the Provincial Road in Beaconsfield, Baie D'Urfee and Ste. Anne de Bellevue.

Municipal Assistance. Guy Pager has examined all phases of Municipal government and as a result feels that the municipalities of our county deserve help in the field of community projects such as recreation centres. A vote for Pager is a vote for action in your community on all matters of Provincial responsibility.

Hospital Construction. The need for hospital beds in Jacques Cartier is very apparent. Provincial assistance can be had. A vote for Guy Pager is a vote for needed Hospital construction in our county.

Library Grants. This county is in desperate need of more and better library facilities for both students and the population as a whole. These grants can be had — the strong voices of Guy Pager at Quebec will provide them for Jacques Cartier County.

A VOTE FOR GUY PAGER WILL BRING THESE IMPROVEMENTS
