Everyone is Welcome

Hazzan's Notes

Dear Friends,

As we begin 2021, the new secular year gives us hope we may be slowly starting to return to some normalcy. As vaccines become available for us to take and we begin the process of trying to slow down and stamp out this virus, we come back to our core values as Jews and push toward all that we can to make sure we value all lives around us and continue our work of Pekuah nefesh (the saving of life).

To that end, on the emotional and spiritual side of our lives, on January 29, Shabbat Shirah (Sabbath of Song), synagogues around the world celebrate our people's joyous exodus from Egypt singing as we crossed the Reed Sea. Jewish communities celebrate with all types of musical services in honor of this momentous event in our peoplehood. We, ourselves, will be holding a special virtual choral service on this night on our Facebook page with the organ prelude at 7:23 pm and the service beginning at 7:30 pm. I will be officiating with our Beth Shalom Professional Singers and Mark Peterson as our accompanist and conductor on both the pipe organ and our keyboard.

The music for this service runs the gamut from the 16th to 21st centuries in Jewish liturgical choral music. We will also be hearing two musical commissions of mine that night as well. One of these was commissioned in 1992 in honor of the worldwide celebration of 500 years of Sefarad 1492-1992 and the other was just commissioned a few months ago in preparation for this special Shabbat. The music will come from Italy, Israel, England, Germany, Sefarad, and the USA. The various Cantorial and other composers and arrangers of the music are listed on the flyer for this event included in this Mishpacha edition.

We know you will want to tune into this very special service and have your friends and relatives do so as well. It will be a hallmark evening and Shabbat for our synagogue celebrating this special event in our people's collective national life.

Hazzan Lance H. Tapper

From our President

Our Torah is in the Honduras Synagogue

The Torah that we donated has been picked up by a representative from Comunidad Sefardita De Honduras Hajaim. We started this adventure on August 25th when we donated our 4th Torah to this community through Kulanu. Kulanu is an organization that supports new and emerging synagogues throughout the world.

This Torah had been stored in the Hazzan’s office since we came to this building. It does not fit into our Aron Kodesh and a larger ark would be too large to wheel around the bimah.

We thought that handing the Torah over to them would be the easy part but that turned out to not be at all true. There were personal emergencies (on the part of their first courier), Covid-19 travel restrictions and two hurricanes which each shut down their airport, to contend with before it could happen.

Rivaldo Rivera from the Honduras congregation flew in and picked up the Torah on December 14th. I was there to represent the congregation as your President as was Hazzan Lance, David Starkman and Jordan Eres. We would have loved to have been able to make a larger celebration of this momentous occasion but with the Covid restrictions being even tighter than before we couldn’t do that. We did an outdoors exchange on a table in front of the Social Hall. It was an emotional time for all. Rivaldo spoke some English but also brought along a friend who helped interpret. They presented us with a plaque thanking us for doing this for them. At one point, when Hazzan Lance and I told them how happy we were to be able to do this, Rivaldo said “I cry”.

The Torah was flown to Miami where it was greeted by the Jewish Community and Kulanu representatives. It is now in Honduras where there was a procession that brought it into their synagogue. The President of Kulanu as well as several of their volunteers who worked on this and their clergy along with me and Hazzan Lance, as the President and clergy of Beth Shalom of Whittier spoke on a Zoom linkup. We will have the Facebook links for you to view and see the Torah being welcomed and celebrated in the synagogue.

This Torah, which was in a storage container, will now be used, loved and revered by a community who would never have been able to buy one on their own. This is an indescribable blessing for them. Here is a quote from an email sent to me by Jo Ann Friedman, Kulanu Programming and Development Manager, “The souls of the entire Beth Shalom Congregation , here and in the past, will vicariously be called up for an Aliyah in the shul in Honduras for many more decades to come.”

This was a real Mitzvah and we all have reason to be very proud and happy. We will keep touch with this community as we are now connected by the Torah. I thank G-d that we were able to do this for them.

Sefer Shemot Exodus 1:1-6:1

On the 25th of Tevet (9 January) we hear or see (TV) the first parasha Shemot of the second book of the Torah. Moses from his birth, to being an adult, and hearing G-d's word in the burning bush is the main content of this parasha.

A six part summary of this follows:

1. A new Pharaoh comes to power who orders all the Israelite male children drowned
2. Baby Moses is put into a basket and set afloat in the Nile River
3. Moses is rescued by Pharaoh's daughter
4. Moses kills an Egyptian who was with an Israelite and flees for his life to Midian.
5. G-d speaks to Moses out of a burning bush and tells him that he and his brothers Aaron will liberate the Israelites from Egyptian slavery.
6. Pharaoh imposes hard labor upon the Israelites.

Disobedience - When Pharaoh commands that every male child born to an Israelite woman is to be drowned, Shifra and Puah, two Hebrew midwives, refused to carry out his command. In essence, they feared G-d more than Pharaoh and believed in the sanctity of G-d's higher power. This is history's first recorded case of civil disobedience in defense of a moral cause.

Conceivability of G-d - After G-d reveals himself to Moses at the burning bush, G-d calls himself - "I will be what I will be". Rashi teaches that no tongue can ever express all that G-d will be to those who truly believe in Him (Midrash Shemot Rabbah 3:6). We should understand that every generation conceives of G-d in a different way, and in every age G-d is likely to reveal himself in new ways. Perhaps that is why in the Amidah prayer G-d is called the G-d of Abraham, the G-d of Isaac, and the G-d of Jacob, for each of the patriarchs saw G-d in a different manner.

Humility - In our religion humility is a virtue to be admired. When Moses is called by G-d to return to Egypt to lead the Jewish people to freedom, his response is a question. "Who am I that I should go to Pharaoh and free the Israelites from Egypt?" All of our leaders have the same words in various ways. (ie. Are you sure you have the right person?) The prophet Micah said it best. What G-d requires of us is to do right, love goodness, and walk HUMBLY with G-d (Micah 6:8)

Hatred - Jewish law denounces hatred. "What is hateful to you, do not do to others," (Talmud Shabbat 31a). Gratuitous hatred, or hatred without real cause, is considered especially vicious. A prime example of this is in the opening of this parashas. Pharaoh expresses his hatred for the Israelites. He condemns them for increasing in numbers (Exodus 1:9). For this crime he has decided to obliterate all of the Israelites.
