

STORY BEHIND THE SONG

The song “Wyoming Where I Belong” took an 18 year journey to arrive at its final destination as an Official State Song of Wyoming.

The Song debuted in New York Central Park. The following morning the song, “Wyoming Where I Belong” played on “Good Morning America”. A few years later Amy and Annie were signed on Warner Bros. Records as Singer/Songwriters. They toured overseas and the song was picked up on BBC radio all over Europe.

Soon “Wyoming Where I Belong” developed a large following in the states via social media. People from all over the world were responding to this song saying ‘how much it reminded them of their home.’

Eventually Wyoming constituents were requesting “Wyoming Where I Belong” to be Wyoming’s State Song. Amy & Annie with the help of the City’s select Children’s Choir presented the song to both the Wyoming House and Senate. The Legislature responded and the song, “Wyoming Where I Belong” became a Bill and signed into Law July 2018.
