

READY TO MOVE ON ALBANY.

Suffragists Complete Their Organization and Announce the Staff.

The suffrage skirmishers completed their organization yesterday. They will move on Albany in true military style with the following staff: General, Rosalie Jones; colonel, Ida Craft; war correspondent, Jessie Stubbs; aid-de-camp, Lillian D. Rockefeller; brigade surgeon, Lavinia Dock; quartermaster, A. Major; drummer boy, Jacob Mirsky.

The latest recruits include Mrs. Edward Van Wyck, a cousin of Mayor Gaynor; Mrs. Velma S. Howard, the well known Scandinavian translator; Miss Cora K. Hamilton, Miss Sibyl Wilbour, a visiting English suffragette; Miss Becker, Mrs. Martha T. Suffren of Brooklyn and Mrs. H. D. Holbert of The Bronx, who will bring a squad of her friends.

Yesterday it was hard to get a prospective tramper to pause long enough to breath a word of information. One had to seek them at the shop counters devoted to the sale of woollen stockings, mittens, ear muffs and boas. Also they might be discovered in a department which would furnish them food for a paper on the topic advertised by Pratt Institute last week, namely: "The Influence of New Underwear." Whenever their minds could be torn from the contemplation of the necessary purchases they wouldn't talk news anyway. All they did was to plead with anybody and everybody to "pray that this weather will last."
