TEXAS-OKLAHOMA KIWANIS

F o u n d a t i o n

The purpose of the Texas-Oklahoma Kiwanis Foundation, of which every T-O Kiwanian is a member, is to provide financial assistance and/or scholarships to individuals and/or Kiwanis Service Leadership Programs that agree with and support the objectives of the Texas-Oklahoma District of Kiwanis International. That purpose is achieved by awarding scholarships, making financial grants to Kiwanis-family sponsored programs and to Kiwanis service programs whose scope is to further youth leadership and citizenship. The Texas-Oklahoma Kiwanis Foundation has grown to a 1.7 million dollar foundation, providing grants and scholarships to assist in making the lives of children better. Thus, our mission – “To assist Kiwanis in serving the children of the world” – is our priority.

Planned Gifts

Bequests:

1. Will

You may make a bequest to the Texas-Oklahoma Foundation by preparing a new will or adding a codicil (or amendment) to your present will. To guarantee that your exact intentions are followed, wills and codicils should be prepared with the advice of your attorney.

Examples of Language:

The following language is suggested for use in making an unrestricted bequest. Ask your attorney to include such words as these:

“I give to the Texas-Oklahoma Kiwanis Foundation, Inc., with headquarters at 3010 W. Park Row Dr, Ste 100, Pantego, TX 76013, the sum of $_____ to be used in such manner as its Board of Trustees determines.”

-or-

“I give to the Texas-Oklahoma Kiwanis Foundation, Inc., with headquarters at 3010 W. Park Row Dr, Ste 100, Pantego, TX 76013, all (or state percentage) of the residue or remainder of my estate, to be used as its Board of Trustees determines.”

2. Life Insurance Policy

You can also make a bequest by way of a life insurance policy or a designated portion thereof.

Advantages of a Bequest:

- By preparing a will, you are ensuring that your assets are distributed to the people and institutions that are most important to you.
- A charitable bequest is deductible for federal estate-tax purposes with no limit on the amount of the deduction.
- Charitable bequests generally are not subject to state inheritance or estate taxes. Often the tax savings can be substantial.

The Texas-Oklahoma Foundation does not provide legal or tax advice. You should consult with your legal and/or tax advisors for information regarding, or issues concerning, planned gifts or estate planning.

Charitable Gift Annuities:

When you establish a charitable gift annuity, you transfer money or securities to a charity in exchange for its commitment to pay you and/or other beneficiaries each year for the lives of the beneficiaries.

The amount of income or annuity that will be paid is established by each charity that issues gift annuities, and generally depends on the age of the beneficiary.

The simplicity and certainty of the gift annuity make it attractive to many donors.

Donors like the fixed payments for life – the fact that part of the payments may be tax free, and that the effective yield is extremely attractive. The deferred gift annuity can be especially attractive to middle-aged professionals and can be an excellent way to build a sound retirement income. Funding an annuity with appreciated stock offers great returns and some outstanding tax advantages.

Annuities of at least $5,000 provide tax benefits along with the security of a fixed, lifetime income. The agreed upon payments remain unchanged regardless of how the investments perform.

Charitable Remainder Trusts:

Another alternative to an out-right bequest is a charitable remainder trust. A charitable remainder trust is a popular arrangement for individuals wanting to make a generous deferred gift to a charitable institution.

Through a charitable remainder trust, a donor irrevocably transfers money or property to a trust, which is created with an attorney's assistance. The trust agreement directs that a specified percentage income be paid each year to you and/or other beneficiaries for the rest of your life, or for a specific term.

Charitable remainder trusts provide several benefits, including an annual income to the donor or other beneficiaries designated in the agreement, an immediate income tax charitable deduction, and avoidance of capital gains tax.

Indeed, you may find that a charitable remainder trust can increase your retirement income, help you escape from a locked-in investment position, and provide more security for you and your family.

For more information on establishing a charitable gift annuity or a charitable remainder trust, contact your attorney.
