Setting Boundaries
To Define (Or Redefine)
Your Life

Cathy L. Webb

Introduction

Unlike a roller coaster, life takes you around only once. There is no ticket you can purchase to take the journey again. Once it is done, it is done. While you can, make each moment awe inspiring for yourself and others.

Too many spend time not truly living the life they say they want. Time is wasted on activities that add no value to anything. What is worse is spending time doing what others say you should do, need to do, or are capable of doing; none of which is your true desire. As time passes, you stop pursuing your dream and simply do what is necessary to survive.

Don't get me wrong. There is absolutely nothing wrong with this. We all like having a comfortable and warm place to sleep and other basic necessities. Just don't allow these to become your sole purpose for what you do in life. Whatever you choose to do, make it purposeful and legacy-building!!

If someone wants to draw your outline, USE YOUR OWN CHALK and do it yourself!!

If someone drew it already, throw water on it and make it fade...

With your one life, take time to create a better version of you...a YOU 2.0!
