

Evidence of Insurability

Evidence of Insurability (EOI) is required by insurance carriers for certain coverages. The EOI process entails being asked a series of medical questions for review by the carrier. Based on the employee's responses, the employee may be requested to have a medical exam, at the cost of the carrier, with an approved provider. The process gives the insurance carrier "evidence" for determination of whether or not an employee will be approved for the requested coverage in the insurance plan.

NOTE: Until the EOI request is approved, the employee continues coverage at the guaranteed issue amount. The guaranteed issue amount is the amount an employee is eligible to obtain without the EOI process. The EOI will be approved within 60 days. Any increased coverage(s) will become effective the 1st of the month following the approval date.

When completing online enrollment and EOI is required, the employee will receive a prompt to complete the needed information as shown below. Note: Specified Illness and Long Term Care do not have an online process for completing the EOI process.
