"All this girl wants is a seat at a Specialized High School. As the NYC Deputy Chancellor explains Mayor De Blasio's policy that willfully excludes Asians in the name of diversity in front of hundreds of Manhattan parents, this girl knows that she will be left out and that she has to try extra hard just because she was born Asian. She does not have a seat at the table, nor does the Mayor want to hear from her. And yes that's part of the American flag in the background and it seems that's all she is entitled to. So she is resigned to do what interests her despite who wants to keep her back. I credit her parents for trying to keep her away from the fray so that she will not lose all hope."
