The Trade Ideas are provided for educational purposes. The purpose is to educate traders on short term trading setups through a two-step process of selecting Daily Charts and applying intraday trading setups. Always use a stock trading simulator to test, master strategies and become more educated in the markets before risking real money. Become successful on a simulator before risking your money and always use a stop. If the markets conditions don't feel right or if you're unsure of the current days trading environment then PASS on the trade. A missed trade is better than a losing trade.
