

NY CENTER IS BEACON
NEWS, PAGE 14

FERGUSON BOWS OUT
SPORTS, PAGE 33

PRICE: $1.75

PERIODICAL

Est. 1928

MAY 15-21, 2013

The Irish Echo

Vol. 87
No. 20

The USA's most widely read Irish-American newspaper

Brian O'Dwyer, award winner Edward Grebow, and Ben Briscoe at Monday's Briscoe Awards.
PHOTO BY JAMES HIGGINS, HIGGINSPHOTONYC.COM.

Briscoes mark 20

By Ray O'Hanlon
rohanlon@irishecho.com

The Briscoe Awards, which commemorate Dublin's first Jewish Lord Mayor, Robert Briscoe, and also serve to forge stronger ties between New York's Irish American and Jewish communities, marked a twentieth anniversary Monday evening with the 2013 award presentations at the 21 Club in midtown Manhattan.

The event is sponsored by the Emerald Isle Immigration Center and hosted by EIIC's chairman, attorney Brian O'Dwyer.

This year's award winners were Robert Astrowsky, assistant secretary of the United Federation of Teachers, and Edward Grebow, president and chief executive officer of Amalgamated Bank.

The packed gathering heard renewals of the ties between Jewish and Irish New Yorkers, forged over many years and by succeeding generations of immigrants.

Those attending also heard please for comprehensive immigration reform, support for the state of Israel, and praise for the work of the Emerald Isle Immigration Center. In his remarks, Brian O'Dwyer delivered a stinging rebuttal to calls for a boycott of Israel that have recently been made in Ireland.

The evening included invocations from Monsignor James Kelly and Rabbi Jay Rosenbaum, acceptance speeches from the award winners, and also an address by former Fianna Fáil TD Ben Briscoe, who, like his father, served at one time as Dublin's Lord Mayor.

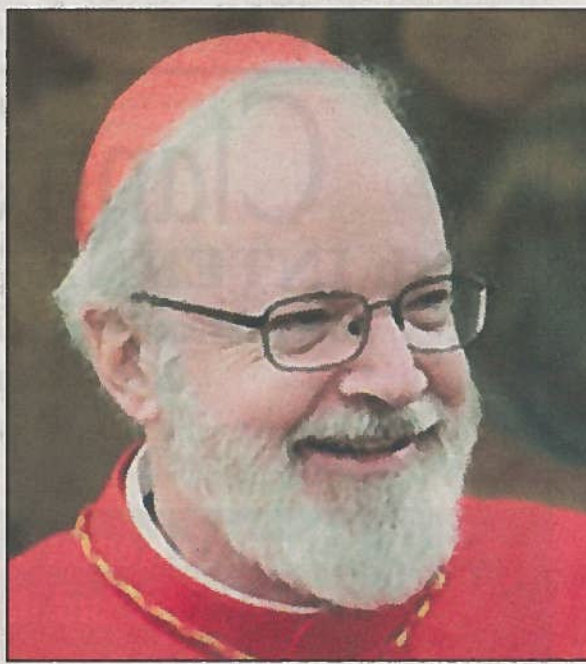

The first Briscoe Awards were held in 1994. At that time, and up to 2000, there were three winners each year. Since then, there have been two.

Belt of Crozier

Cardinal O'Malley to boycott Kenny and BC speech

Taoiseach Enda Kenny. PHOTOCALL

Cardinal Sean O'Malley.

By Jim Smith
letters@irishecho.com

BOSTON --- The head of the Roman Catholic Archdiocese of Boston, Cardinal Sean O'Malley, says that he will not attend May 20 graduation ceremonies at Boston College because Taoiseach Enda Kenny will be delivering the commencement address and receiving an honorary degree.

"I am sure that the invitation (to Kenny) was made in good faith, long before it came to the attention of the leadership of Boston College that Mr. Kenny is aggressively promoting abortion legislation," O'Malley said in a press statement.

"Since the university has not withdrawn the invitation and because the Taoiseach has not seen fit to decline, I shall not attend the graduation," O'Malley, who was scheduled to deliver a blessing to the graduates at the Jesuit college, alluded in his statement to the 2004 request of the U.S. Catholic Bishops that Catholic institutions "should not honor those who act in defiance of our fundamental moral principles. They should not be given awards, honors, or platforms which would suggest support for their actions."

BC spokesman Jack Dunn said in a press release that the college respects O'Malley and regrets that he will not attend. He said BC's decision to honor Kenny was based in part on the "historically close relationship Boston College has enjoyed with Ireland."

Dunn also denied that there was any rift between the college and the church.

"As a Catholic institution, Boston College supports the Church's commitment to the life of the unborn."

At the crux of the conflict is Kenny's support of pending legislation in Ireland which the bishops there have described as "a dramatic and morally unacceptable change to Irish law."

Continues on page 2

Gaelic Athletic Assoc. of Greater New York

For all New York GAA information visit our website:

www.newyork.gaa.ie

Liam Birmingham, Chairman

Wednesday, May 15 • 7:45pm
Mna Na Fianna v Kerry/Donegal

Thursday, May 16 • 6:30pm

IF ko • Mayo v Rangers

7:45pm • IF ko

Monaghan v Celtics

Sunday, May 19 • 1:00pm

IF ko • LI Gaels v Rockland

Sunday, May 19 • 2:30pm

IF ko • Kerry v Rangers

4:00pm • SF ko • Cavan v Kerry

5:30pm • SF ko

Donegal v Cork

Tuesday, May 21 • 6:45pm

B Ch • Rockland v Manhattan

7:45pm • A Ch

Raymonds v Brooklyn