What can I expect in my weekly box?

What can I expect in my weekly box?

A CSA box is a wonderful way to learn more about your local growing season. Over the course of the year, you'll see a variety of produce and sizes. As the growing season progresses, the variety and yield in your box will increase. Our goal is to provide you with an overflowing box containing a variety of the freshest, healthiest produce. In the event that Mother Nature doesn't cooperate, we will fill your box with whatever we harvest that week. Below is a short description of crops we typically grow and what you might expect to find in your box.
