Customer Spotlight

For USCIS Field Operations Directorate (FOD), we are currently providing project management, business and human capital analysis, and facilitation to support FOD 20/20 – FOD’s set of strategic projects chosen to facilitate organizational transformation; as well as Executive Order implementation. We facilitated FOD 20/20 dimension coordinators to identify and arrive at consensus about the annual set of investment projects to propose to leadership—ranging from re-organizing FOD Regions/Districts/Offices to shadowing programs, to determining resources required to “interview all.” We captured these projects in a FOD 20/20 Roadmap. We continue to support FOD in implementing investment projects, assisting in researching best practices, facilitating workgroups, conducting surveys, creating analyses, developing recommendations, and drafting decision papers. In response to an Executive Order, we’re currently supporting FOD in developing its FOD VISION and supporting Roadmap, to describe the process and key concepts required to make its adjudication process both more effective and efficient as well as a plan to implement those concepts.

The American Society of Clinical Oncology (ASCO) embarked on an initiative to revolutionize the delivery of cancer care by developing CancerLinQ, a new rapid learning healthcare system. CancerLinQ was envisioned as a data informatics system designed to meet the need for effective, adaptable, and comprehensive quality improvement tools in cancer care. Our team was engaged to provide guidance and expertise to support execution of the overall CancerLinQ program vision by framing funding decisions and a product development roadmap for its board to advance CancerLinQ to the next stage of implementation and to offer strategic options for healthcare IT for the vendor acquisition, collaboration and implementation approach.

McMENAMIN
CONSULTING GROUP

Rooted in Dynamic Collaboration

McMenamin Consulting Group LLC (MCG) solves problems to realize strategy. The bigger the problem, the more complex – the better.

MCG combines a depth of Big Four consulting firm experience with a healthy dose of irreverence, compelling us to approach each opportunity with open minds, a commitment to collaboration, and a focus on results.

We navigate complex problems, working with most Federal Government agencies as well as private sector clients. Whether focused on issues surrounding human capital, transformation, business process reengineering, or in a project management role, MCG resources work with leadership to define goals, deliver strategy, develop reorganization packages, and provide work process analysis. Our consultants average over 15 years of experience, most hold advanced degrees, and many are cleared to TS/SCI level.
