

L-r: Michael Turner and Dave Murdoch.

Foster City Rod & Gun Club members (l-r) Darold Givens, Don Woods, Matt Hoy and Gene Hoy hold an impressive catch of Collins Lake trout at a recent club outing. —Alexa Hemken.

New Foster City electric boat sellers host first demo

Edgewater Marine, a Duffy electric boat seller based in Foster City, hosted a demo event from Friday, April 12 to Saturday, April 14 at the Foster City Recreation Center. "We had a lot of interest all weekend," said Michael Turner, a Foster City resident and founder of the company. "The strong Foster City winds in the afternoon really helped show off the control and maneuverability of the Duffy Power Rudder." —Alexa Hemken

Local student honored in national art competition

Kevin Kuo, a Bowditch Middle School student, was among 40 semi-finalists in the 2013 Endangered Species Day Youth Art Contest hosted by the Endangered Species Coalition. His painting will be on display at U.S. Botanic Garden in Washington, D.C. More than 2,100 entries were received from young people nationwide. —Alexa Hemken

Kevin Huo's painting, Stormy Ocean Wandering Albatross, features a short-tailed Albatross and received national praise.

The Rotary Club of Foster City recognized San Mateo High School student Marie Angle with the Student of the Month award on April 17. Marie plans to study engineering at the University of Michigan after graduation. L-r: Rotary President Noemi Avram, Rotarian Lorelei Keim, Marie Angle and counselor April Torres. —Alexa Hemken

PYSC Storm Advances to Semifinals of Presidents Cup

The Peninsula Youth Soccer Club U14 Girls' team Storm, a local team, advanced in the CalNorth Presidents Cup Tournament with a two wins, one tie, one loss record during the preliminary round. Teams in the Presidents Cup compete against other competitive Silver Elite or higher level teams from throughout Northern California. It is a qualifier for U.S. Youth Soccer Region IV Presidents Cup competition held in Idaho. The next round is single elimination and will take place on April 28 in Sacramento against the Roseville Impulse. —Alexa Hemken

O: (650) 432-6040
www.dnhrealtysolutions.com

559 Pilgrim Dr., Suite B
Foster City, CA

Managing Your Properties

As Though They Were Our Own

At DNH Property Management Solutions, we go above and beyond our duties for our clients to maximize their profit on investment. We will:

- ▶ Make inspections and ensure your property is maintained and complies with all regulations
- ▶ Choose and interface with the best-qualified tenants
 - ▶ Provide you with a market update on rent
- ▶ Manage all of your invoices in a timely fashion, including mortgages and taxes

L-r: Foster City's planning director Curtis Banks, Foster City Chamber of Commerce CEO Joanne Bohigian, Rotary President Noemi Avram and Foster City Assistant City Manager Steve Toler.

Woodford (top) and Shaw with Avram.

Rotary Club hosts range of speakers

On April 10, the Rotary Club of Foster City heard from three speakers who presented the Sustainability Plan of Foster City (left). On April 17, the club hosted Jeanne Woodford (top right), executive director of Death Penalty Focus, a nonprofit against capital punishment; and Foster City Rotarian Larry Shaw (bottom right), who was awarded Rotary International District 5150 Paul Harris Society. —Alexa Hemken

David Hamaoui has been a Foster City resident for 42 years and has extensive experience in real estate. He was the owner/broker for Century 21 Acton for 15 years and the owner/broker of Prudential California Realty for 10 years before opening DNH Realty Solutions in Foster City in 2010. Besides being dedicated to his clients, he is also an active community leader.