

"I SERVE QUIETLY, WITHOUT RECOGNITION OR ACCOLADES..."

Mr. Del W. Wilber is a core member of OPSEC. He brings over thirty years of experience in counterterrorism and security, serving as an Intelligence Officer with the Central Intelligence Agency in Eastern and Western Europe, and as a civilian consultant with the Department of Defense. Wilber also served as an Intelligence Officer with the Department of Homeland Security-Office of Intelligence and Analysis on the U.S. Southwest Border, working with state and local law enforcement. His expertise took him to Iraq from 2004-2007 where he served as an advisor for counterterrorism and counter-IED operations to the U.S. Army Multi-National Corps – Iraq. Mr. Wilber continues to work closely with America’s Special Operations Forces conducting training to help prepare them for overseas deployment.

Wilber spent one year as the Counterterrorism Advisor and Consultant to the government of Bosnia and Herzegovina, advising the Ministry of Interior and Ministry of Security in counterterrorism and counterinsurgency. He has also conducted extensive training in security and counterterrorism for the Middle Eastern governments of Iraq and the United Arab Emirates.

Mr. Wilber is a published writer with articles and columns appearing in SWAT Digest magazine, Townhall.com, and other publications. He has been invited to appear as a counterterrorism expert on a number of nationwide radio programs. Wilber also appeared as a regular panel member on the NRA-TV’s Life of Duty program ‘Defending Our America’.

