KIWANIS MEETING OF May 21st, 2018

This was a special evening meeting, one we look forward to every year. In fact, this was our 29th year of presenting the Spenser Havlick scholarships to area high school seniors planning to study math, science, and engineering in college. A total of 48 people gathered at the Black & Tan Grille for the festivities. They enjoyed a dinner of either steak or salmon, both were outstanding (your writer only had salmon, but he heard the steak was very tasty too).

Your scholarship committee, Emmet and Bob R. and Rick, selected six winners this year from almost 50 applicants. As usual, it was tough to pick only six since the applicant pool is so consistently strong. Here are your 2018 winners:

Bailey Conradt, Ashwaubenon - studying chemical engineering at UW Madison

Ingrid Hansen, Southwest (Key Club member) - studying biomedical sciences at Marquette

Jacob Klister, Wrightstown - studying chemical engineering at UW Madison (Jacob had a track meet tonight, so he will get his scholarship as part of our regular meeting on June 4)

Lauren Welker, Notre Dame - studying civil engineering at UW Madison

Dia Yang, Preble - studying physics at UW Stevens Point

Zoe Zimmer, Luxemburg Casco - studying biology and wildlife management at Northern Michigan

Our club speakers tonight included President Dal, Pat, and Rick. Dal got us rolling with a few words about the tonight's program and our club. We sang "America" and "On Kiwanis" with scholarship winner Bailey playing the piano! Pat gave the invocation (with writing assistance from Joe) and Rick read from the applications submitted by each of the winners.

The evening's featured speaker was Patrick Browne, principal at Notre Dame Academy. He impressed the audience with the research he had done about Kiwanis International and our club's activities. Patrick has only lived in Green Bay for a year, but he is already a big fan of the way our community cares for its youth. So much so that he said Kiwanis is the kind of club he would like to join ... President Dal made sure Patrick left the dinner with an application!

No Monday meeting next week due to Memorial Day, we will get together instead at the NEW Zoo with the Nicolet School 3rd graders starting at 10:45 AM. Then we are back to Monday meetings in June.

June 4 - Joe will show us the Sconniewood film winners and Jacob Klister will get his scholarship

June 11 - Dave has the program

June 18 - Emmet has the program

June 25 - Dal is planning a membership recruitment luncheon
