A Note from Rick: Tuesday was a tough day at the market for sellers. The downward pressure of the cattle market showed at the feeder sale. It seems that things have stabilized a bit on the beef side, but milk futures have since slipped. Cattle numbers seem to be strong and right now it definitely looks to me like we're in a buyer's market. On the bright side, feed looks to be cheap and plentiful and the weather has been ideal. Things are taking shape nicely for a busy sale month in October. I'm looking forward to meeting a whole new group of buyers & sellers at the horse sales. Hope to see you at TLA!
