

Name _____

Block _____

Crash Course Video Notes

Watch the following episode of Crash Course US history and answer the following questions.

Episode 5: The Seven Years War and the Great Awakening

19 questions

1. What did Winston Churchill call the Seven Years war? _____
2. What was the American theatre of the Seven Years war called? _____
3. How long did the Seven Years war actually last? _____ What years? _____
4. What does Mr. Green say the war was mainly about? _____
5. What was the Key economic theory of the British empire in the 18th century? _____
What does it mean?

6. Why were the colonies an awesome way to create this favorable balance of trade?

7. What do you need more of to make this system work? _____
8. "The growth and prosperity of the emerging society of free colonial British America were achieved as a result of _____ labor " –Some Historian dude ☺
9. Who was Britain's main rival? _____
10. What did the French begin doing that became "problematic" _____

11. Who won the French and Indian war? _____
12. What land did the terms of the Treaty of Paris say British could claim? _____

13. Who were the real losers of the French and Indian war? _____
Why? _____
14. What was this episode's mystery document (Title, it is written in the purple box)? _____
15. What did the mystery document have to do with the rest of the episode? _____

16. What did the Proclamation of 1763 state? _____

17. What were citizen's natural rights _____ and _____
Who defined these rights?
18. Under the Social Contract theory what was the Government's job? _____

19. Mr. Green says one of the keys to the revolution was a "breakdown in respect for authority" – what was this fueled by? _____
