Family Educational Rights & Privacy Act (FERPA)

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) (20 U.S.C. § 1232g; 34 CFR Part 99) is a Federal law that protects the privacy of student education records. The law applies to all schools that receive funds under an applicable program of the U.S. Department of Education.

FERPA gives parents certain rights with respect to their children's education records. These rights transfer to the student when he or she reaches the age of 18 or attends a school beyond the high school level. Students to whom the rights have transferred are "eligible students."

1. Parents or eligible students have the right to inspect and review the student's education records maintained by the school. Schools are not required to provide copies of records unless, for reasons such as great distance, it is impossible for parents or eligible students to review the records. Schools may charge a fee for copies.
2. Parents or eligible students have the right to request that a school correct records which they believe to be inaccurate or misleading. If the school decides not to amend the record, the parent or eligible student then has the right to a formal hearing. After the hearing, if the school still decides not to amend the record, the parent or eligible student has the right to place a statement with the record setting forth his or her view about the contested information.
3. Generally, schools must have written permission from the parent or eligible student in order to release any information from a student's education record. However, FERPA allows schools to disclose those records, without consent, to the following parties or under the following conditions (34 CFR § 99.31):
  - a. School officials with legitimate educational interest;
  - b. Other schools to which a student is transferring;
  - c. Specified officials for audit or evaluation purposes;
  - d. Appropriate parties in connection with financial aid to a student;
  - e. Organizations conducting certain studies for or on behalf of the school;
  - f. Accrediting organizations;
  - g. To comply with a judicial order or lawfully issued subpoena;
  - h. Appropriate officials in cases of health and safety emergencies; and
  - i. State and local authorities, within a juvenile justice system, pursuant to specific State law.

Schools may disclose, without consent, "directory" information such as a student's name, address, telephone number, date and place of birth, honors and awards, and dates of attendance. However, schools must tell parents and eligible students about directory information and allow parents and eligible students a reasonable amount of time to request that the school not disclose directory information about them. Schools must notify parents and eligible students annually of their rights under FERPA. The actual means of notification (special letter, inclusion in a PTA bulletin, student handbook, or newspaper article) is left to the discretion of each school.

Child Find Policy

Pillar Academy (the School) will identify, locate, and evaluate all children, within its population served, with disabilities who are in need of special education and related services. The School's Child Find activities must include any student who is suspected of being a child with a disability and in need of special education, even though the student may be:

- advancing from grade to grade or
- highly mobile, including a migrant student.

The School will inform the general public and parents, within its population served, of its responsibility for special education services for students aged three (3) through twenty-one (21) years and how those services may be accessed, including information regarding early intervention services for children aged birth through two (2) years. Services for an eligible student with a disability will extend through conclusion of the instructional year during which the student attains the age of twenty-two (22).

For each new student, the School will review enrollment data and educational performance at prior schools then complete, within forty-five (45) days following the date of enrollment, a screening for identification of possible disabilities. Screening procedures will include vision and hearing status as well as consideration of the following areas:

- cognitive or academic,
- communication,
- motor,
- social or behavioral, and
- adaptive development

Within 10 school days following identification, any concerns noted during the screening will be shared with the parent, guardian, or adult student, and an explanation of the School's follow up procedures will be provided.

A parent, guardian, or student may identify a developmental or educational concern or request an evaluation for the purpose of identifying disability and the need for special education and related services. Within 10 school days following the identification or request, an explanation of the School's follow procedures will be provided.

A student will be referred to the School's administrator for consideration of the need for a full and individual evaluation or other services if:

- a history of special education is identified during the review of enrollment data and records from prior schools,
- concerns are identified during the School's screening process,
- developmental or educational concerns are identified by the parent, guardian, or student, or the parent, guardian, or student requests an evaluation.
