

Table Talk Podcast with Nancy & Mike LeMay

Guest: Kathi McCarty (Steve's ex-wife)

Length: 25:26 (Part2)

@1:03 – Kathi said: “If you didn’t know I was an honest woman, you’d think I was making this up.”

The Truth / Kathi’s Lie: Kathi he was making a lot of this stuff up! Steve feels that most of it for sympathy. In her “Broken Yet Blessed” book, released in March of 2015, being referred to in the podcast, she takes swipes at Steve not by name, but most people who were aware of Steve and Kathi’s situation know she is referring to Steve.

The Proof: The Winnebago County divorce financials from February 2014 and the actual date of divorce, etc shows definitive proof that Kathi lied on many occasions, many more than are detailed in this podcast, and in her book.

@1:44 – Kathi said: For the second time she claims, “He left me when I was critically ill, and because of Steve’s business debts, we were on the cusp of bankruptcy.”

The Truth / Kathi’s Lie: Again, this is not true. Although she had kidney issues the Roses were doing very well.

The Proof: There was never a doctor’s diagnosis that Kathi was critically ill, and again Winnebago County divorce financials and bank statements from Lakeview Credit Union (now Verve) in Neenah, will reveal that the Roses were not struggling, but doing very well financially at the time of the divorce.

@2:45 – Kathi said: “One cold morning I heard a knock on the door and received divorce papers. I had no money to pay for a divorce, so a woman from the church helped me.”

The Truth / Kathi’s Lie: Again, Kathi had plenty of money to pay for her part of the divorce. She had a $800 a week job--$40,000 per year, plus pension, the $800 a month in Social Security benefits for her special needs daughter Sarah—plenty in the savings account and credit cards, equity, some cash, etc. In Steve’s opinion, this comment was to make him look terrible and get sympathy, which she did. A lady from the church gave her $5,000 for a retainer for her divorce attorney.

The Proof: The Winnebago County divorce financials and Lakeside Credit Union (now Verve) in Neenah will show definitive proof the Roses were doing well financially at the time of the divorce.

@4:58 – Kathi said: “The elders of the church called (Steve) to repentance and he refused to go back into the marriage.”

The Truth / Kathi's Lie: The elders of Cornerstone church in Menasha WI, where Kathi was a pastor from 2005 until 2016, waited three weeks for Kathi to spread lies to her church from the pulpit, and numerous others, before the elders asked to meet to hear Steve's side of the story. Basically the one-hour meeting was cordial, and Steve agreed that communications—that Kathi discovered—between him and Charlene were inappropriate, but not proof of an affair as Kathi told others professed during the podcasts, and documented in her book.

The Proof: Steve's brother Dale was with Steve during this meeting. He will also confirm that the elders never, ever during the meeting offered to send the Roses somewhere for counseling.

@11:20 – Kathi said: "I literally had no money for a divorce attorney."

The Truth / Kathi's Lie: This is not true.

The Proof: Again, the Winnebago County divorce financials and bank statements from Lakeview Credit Union (now Verve) in Neenah will show that at the actual date of the commencement of the divorce will give definitive proof that the Roses were doing well financially.

@17:00 – Mike LeMay comments: "Kathi, the Bible says we need to forgive others (in this case Steve). It must have been hard for you to forgive him."

@20:23 Kathi responds to Mike LeMay: "I have forgiven him, and continue to do so every day."

The Truth / Kathi's Lie: It would seem clear now that from Kathi's actions and statements during the podcast, and now from her January 2022 communications to blackmail Charlene; the despicable "anonymous email" that Craig Culver reported to Steve; a damaging call Kathi made in the fall of 2021 to Fond du Lac Boys & Girls Club CEO Dan Hebel, along with many letters to Steve and Charlene's family's, and friends that Kathi has not forgiven him.

The Proof: Kathi's recent communications to Charlene and Steve that are in the hands of attorney Chuck Hertel prove that she has never forgiven Steve for anything.

In Summary: Kathi is very convincing in these podcasts. It's pretty clear that the LeMays bought her story "hook, line & sinker", and it's worth noting again that the LeMays never, ever contacted Steve for rebuttal and defense, or fact checked any of Kathi's content, which can be proven as lies with much of the documentation Steve has discussed. the Roses, and their legal counsel are committed to go the farthest extent legally to hold Kathi, and now her fourth husband Gary, who agrees with Kathi's slanderous and damaging allegations accountable.
