A Note from Rick: Great week overall at TLA despite the ugly weather on Tuesday morning. Even with the ice, we had a little hotter market with the exception of bull calves. The butcher cow market highlighted the day with higher prices and higher volume. The feeder market was very light with steady prices. Bull calves were the only thing all week that were cheaper. Our Springer sale Thursday was a DANDY. We had a very active group of buyers and another great group of cattle to offer. The combination of those two made it one of the best sales we've had in my opinion. I couldn't be more excited about the potential of the Springer sale after seeing more new names in both the buyer and seller categories. I can't wait for next month's sale. The break is over. It's back to horses too in February and March. Looking forward to keeping things ROLLIN' at TLA.
