

January Re- Stock Contest

January 12th- 30th

This always seems to be the time of year when the classrooms are running out of important items like tissues and cleaning wipes. In an effort to refill classrooms with what they need, the CSSR PTO will be kicking off a fun re-stock contest!

We've listed some common consumable items that classrooms tend to run out of part way through the year. Each item has been assigned a point value. As items are turned into teachers, the class will track them using tallies. At the end of the contest, points will be calculated, and the highest class in each grade level will receive a $50 credit to our annual Scholastic Book Fair to choose books for their class! The contest will begin on January 12th and will run until January 30th.

January 2015

Dear Teacher,

Happy New Year!

We are getting prepared to kick-off our January Re-Stock Contest. We know how important it is to get some of these items back into the classroom, especially antibacterial wipes and tissues at this time of year!

Based on the survey many of you completed last year, along with our notes from the last two years, we've made a few changes to the contest for this January. We modified the list a little, including adding an additional "teacher request" line for you to write in two specific items you'd like for your classroom. We will be awarding a $50 credit to the Scholastic Book Fair to the highest earning class at each grade level. You will be able to use that this March when the book fair comes to our school. We will also send home reminders to students that there will be "double points" days.

As items roll in, if you could kindly keep track of them on the attached tally sheet. Feel free to make these into a math lesson should you wish. We've heard about how excited the students were to track their items and discover their point totals at the end of the contest, and we hope that enthusiasm will continue this year. At the end of the month, please return your completed chart to the PTO mailbox so totals can be calculated and winners contacted.

Anything you receive in abundance, please feel free to share with your fellow teachers, especially those in Art, Music, Library, and the nurse.

Along with the tally sheet, you will find a master copy of the supply list to send home with your students. We are asking that you write in the two items you would request for your own room, and copy enough of these sheets to distribute to your class. We figured it would be easier than writing both items in on each page. The PTO has donated paper to each copy room to cover the paper you'll need to do this.

Should you have any questions, please don't hesitate to contact us at sarah@cssrpto.org or kate@cssrpto.org.

Warm regards,
Sarah and Kate
