

Istation Goes Home to Support Students' Learning

Due to current events, here are some recommendations from Istation to ensure classroom learning continues at home. The students can continue their personalized learning at home by logging into the application and selecting Reading with ISIP, accessing their books in their Library, and by engaging in the Ipractice activities.

Although the priority is that the students work on their personalized learning paths, in this instance, we recommend the classroom teacher utilize the Assignment feature. This will enable students' to access lessons for core instruction based on the teachers' instructional plan.

Here are sample Istation Home calendars to guide and encourage students to work in Istation at home.
