Areas of Competition

- Individual Interview
 - Each contestant will do a 10 minute interview with the judges. They will be asked a variety of questions about themselves, their personal goals and hobbies, their passion for agriculture, their involvement with the fair, and why they want to be the fairest of the fair. No political or inappropriate questions will be asked.
- 30 Second Personal Introduction
 - This phase of the competition will be completed in front of the fair board members as well as the judges. Your 30 second personal introduction should be memorized, not read.
- Impromptu Event Announcement
 - This will occur after you have given your personal introduction. Each contestant will draw a card that will have a fair event written on it. You will have a few seconds to gather your thoughts, and then you will give an announcement for that event, just like you would if you were introducing that event at the Marquette County Fair.
- 30 Second Radio Commercial
 - Your radio commercial can be written out before the competition. You will be able to read your radio commercial at the podium in front of the judges and the Fair Board. Your radio commercial should be fun and upbeat. There are no content requirements but you can talk about real events that happen at the fair and/or incorporate the fair's theme as well. This years fair theme is "A Vintage Experience". Your goal is to get people excited about the fair.
- Impromptu Question

- This portion of the competition will take place after you deliver your 30 second radio commercial. Each contestant will draw a card with a question written on it. You will read the question out loud, take a few seconds to gather your thoughts, and deliver your answer. These questions may include, but are not limited to, scenarios on how you would handle situations as the Fairest of the Fair, what different aspects of the fair and being the Fairest of Fair mean to you, and what is the importance of the fair and how can we increase attendance and exhibitor entries.
