

Painting of Quaint Building in Dorval New York Sensation

When Dorri Thomson (Mrs. B. M. Thomson) of Handfield Circle flew to New York with four paintings of local scenes under her arm, she had no idea of the warm reception quaint Quebec would receive in sophisticated New York.

At the invitation of the Committee, Mrs. Thomson's paintings were exhibited in an Exhibition of Canadian Paintings sponsored by the

This painting of the Tavern at the corner of Martin Avenue and Lakeshore Road, by Dorri Thomson of Dorval, caused considerable interest when it was exhibited recently in an art show in New York City.

Canadian Women's Club of New York City, April 21-25, to give Canadian artists their first opportunity to exhibit in a group to New Yorkers. Mrs. Harry Scott, the Consul-General, in opening the show, said that these women were carrying out their job of unofficial ambassadors to the United States in yet another way, — that of letting Americans see Canada reflected from the canvases of its artists.

Dorri Thomson was the only artist from French Canada exhibiting in the show. "It has given me a whole new perspective on art and what the artist's role should be — here, locally", Dorri said on her return. The exhilaration of exhibiting with such notable Canadians as Earl Bailey, the armless artist who does his marine sketches with a brush held between his teeth, or Bruce Hunter, the Nova Scotian, who is the Director of the New York Museum of Natural History, or Robert Loughheed who does covers for Reader's Digest, must be considerable but the personal reception which Dorri Thomson and her paintings were accorded was warm indeed.

"La Neige Fondante", her painting of the old habitant house at the corner of Neptune and Lakeshore Road, which she had finished in a snow storm under an umbrella, made more than one expatriate homesick. Looking at the Tavern sketch, pictured on our front page, at the vivid fall colours of her "Autumn on De Perrot", and at Dorri herself with her dark tan, acquired in the March sunlight of the Laurentians, the New Yorkers said: "This is Quebec; this is Canada." Dorvalites could hardly have had a better representative to capture our local scene on canvas and give New York a glimpse of the picturesque world which we too often take for granted.

John Pratt says

London, May 4 - (Special to the Reporter) - This column and the next few issues will originate from London, England, where I am attending a Commonwealth Conference on Parliamentary Practice and Procedure at the mother of parliaments, in Westminster. I am very glad to have this opportunity of representing the Canadian branch of the Commonwealth Parliamentary Association as a delegate to this study conference. I shall have the opportunity of meeting several dozen delegates from all parts of the Commonwealth, gathered together in London to discuss our mutual parliamentary problems. I shall also have an unexpected opportunity to be made aware of the various points of view on commonwealth and international problems which are held by representatives of the many parts of our widespread brotherhood of nations. It should also be a wonderful opportunity to obtain an objective viewpoint of our own country, its problems, and its methods of solving them in comparison to the methods practiced by other members of the Commonwealth.

The British Commonwealth of Nations is under a tremendous strain, at the moment, due to the unhappy events which have been occurring in South Africa, and this is only one of many examples of the kind of problem which the members of this Conference will be able to discuss with each other informally outside the regular hours which will be spent on the study of parliamentary practice and procedure. I do not know, as yet, whether South Africa will send a representative but I am looking forward to a frank discussion on this question with any and all informed people that I may meet.

If I may now bring up a question which is not within the federal field but of great interest to the residents of this County, I would like to discuss the problem of shop-closing hours.

The small shop owners, particularly in cities like Lachine, are faced with a serious problem in competition with the shopping centres and their large parking spaces. It has become the practice, over the years, for more and more people to shop in areas where they can park

Dorval Recreation Survey

The Parks & Recreation Department of the City of Dorval has already approached the Members of the Protestant and Catholic School Boards and soon the religious authorities will also be contacted in order to establish some general policy regarding the use, by the residents of this City, of the lands, buildings and/or other facilities administered by the schools or churches.

Already assured that our Department is going to get a lot of cooperation, as far as facilities are concerned, we now turn to our public to get from them their wishes, desires and interest in the field of recreation, as well as their abilities and willingness to help as organizers, instructors, referees, supervisors or in some other capacity.

The Dorval East Recreation Association has already conducted its own recreation survey in a somewhat different form and shape than the one our Department is to launch. So, to avoid duplication, we ascertained that the Courtland Park, Pine Beach, Strathmore and Windsor Gardens Community associations are to help conducting the survey in their own area, thus, covering the remainder of the City. Once we know what are the facilities at our disposal, what are the public needs and desires, their abilities and willingness to help, we will be in a more secure position to offer a trilateral aspect - physical, social and cultural - year-round recreation programme, whether part of it be on a parochial basis, on a community basis or city wide.

The public is now invited to help themselves, their family and their neighbours. The questionnaires have been handed over to the various associations. Get in touch with executive members of your association right now. Should some residents, not be a member of any community or recreation associations mentioned in paragraph 3, your Parks & Recreation Department would suggest that you call ME 1-1857, extension 44, so that we may forward you the necessary number of questionnaires - one for each party of 10 years of age and over.

Recreation is your business. The Department of Parks & Recreation is yours! Will the survey and the recreation programme be a success? It is still your business. Get your Recreation Survey form and fill it out now.

Help your Parks & Recreation Department to help you.

Get Your Polio Vaccine Now

Early immunization against polio is strongly recommended by medical authorities as protection against possible outbreaks later in the year. Clinics have been open all winter and, at present, are prepared to administer either initial or booster shots to anyone seeking them. Vaccination of both you and the members of your family can eliminate the shadow of this killer on your home.

BICYCLE TESTING SATURDAY

As the climax to the Bicycle Safety Campaign sponsored by the Dorval Safety Council in the local Schools, Bicycle Tests will be held next Saturday in all the schools in the City. Children can only pass these tests at their own schools and by doing so, they are not only eligible to win the prizes but are supporting their school. The school with the highest percentage of attendance will be awarded the Dorval Safety Council Trophy. If the weather on May 7th is inclement, a new date will be announced on Radio Station CFOX.

The Dorval Chamber of Commerce, the Junior Dorval Chamber of Commerce and the Dorval Safety Council have each donated trophies for the Bicycle Tests this year, and shields have been donated by the 100 Community Association, Mimi-dale Association, Windsor Gardens Association, Dorval Recreation Association, Strathmore Women's Club, Strathmore Community Association, the Dorval East Recreation Association, Klansmen of Lachine-Dorval, Societe de St. Jean Baptiste de Dorval, L'Association de la Jeunesse Canadienne de Dorval and the Dorval Safety Council. Many valuable prizes have also been donated by Raleigh Cycle Industries (Canada) Ltd., Henry Morgan & Co. Ltd., Johnson & Johnson Ltd., Bank of Montreal, Dorval Branch, Klansmen of Lachine-Dorval, Royal Bank of Canada Dorval Branch, Coca Cola Ltd., Provincial Transport Company, Montreal Tramways Commission and the Toronto-Dominion Bank, Dorval Branch.

As all the children of school-age living in Dorval do not attend schools in Dorval, a Special Test has been arranged to be held in the South Parking Lot at Dorval Gardens Shopping Centre. Assistance is needed from the fathers of these children to run this Test as effi-

SUBURBAN TRAVEL

People will use automobiles only as long as nothing better is available. Trucks will carry most of the freight within and through metropolitan areas only until faster, more efficient, and more economical transport is available. Mail and express will continue to suffer from central terminal delays only until a better system of coordinated metropolitan mail and express distribution is available. Some will say, "Why flay the dying iron horse? His days of service are nearly over." Others will reply that coordinated electrified through metropolitan railway systems may still be made a dynamic force in the new metropolis with beneficial effects upon land utilization and human activities.

We would do well to keep in mind that commercial, social, and recreational developments invariably follow good equipment on good schedules over good routes. The corollary is that transportation improvements can be financed most economically by capitalizing on the future values which transport improvements invariably create. The modern metropolis challenges the railroads, and the future role of the iron horse in urban transport depends upon the response of railroad management to this challenge.

Aid Of Strathmore Cubs And Scouts

Friday evening May 13th, 1960 commencing at 8:00 p.m. members of Canada's Number 1 Variety Show "THE BLUE SKY REVUE" will give a complete performance of their renowned show.

Here is your chance to see this remarkable revue in action and also a chance to see and meet some of your favourite Radio and Television Stars in person.

Meet such well known artists as Carol and Sandy, Canada's youngest Ventrolquist and Star of Talent Caravan. A remarkable group as well called THE WHITE SPOTS with their tremendous impressions of Billy Kenny's Ink Spots; KENNY JONES, trick accordionist; young JOYCE GERMAIN, Cross Canada Hit Parade Singer. One of the newest acts to join The Blue Sky Revue direct from London England we have our own Mr. Pastry with RODGER PEACE; the song and dance antics of A COUPLE OF SWELLS with CAROLYN BLYTHE; MARGO TURNER, tops in Taps and Acrobatic Routines and last but not least, the winners of The Talent Caravan Show - THE GOLDEN TONES' ... All this is backed by The Blue Sky Revue Orchestra under the direction of Kenny Jones, with Gary Kyle on Electric Guitar and Billy Blythe, Drums.

The show is being held at the Courtland Park School in Strathmore and is for a very good cause, the Cubs and Scouts of the District. Here is a show for the entire family and special lighting and sound will be on hand for this special evening.

Refugee Aid Group Seeking Support

The Refugee Aid Society (Montreal Lakeshore), Post Office Box 2, Valois, has sent a letter to all groups and organizations on the Lakeshore informing them of the aims of the Society. All members of these groups and organizations are asked to support the Society in the first place by becoming members. In order that everyone on the Lakeshore may participate in relieving the plight of at least some of the millions of homeless people throughout the world, the membership fee has been set at only one dollar.

The Refugee Aid Society is planning direct assistance to refugees by sponsoring the emigration to Canada of at least one family, to be settled on the Lakeshore. The Society is aware that some groups on the Lakeshore are planning, or have already taken action, in this respect. The Society hopes to serve as a co-ordinator.

Among the first to help in the campaign of the Society's Membership Committee were the Freres de L'Instruction Chretienne who translated the letter into French for French groups and Ciba Co. Ltd. who donated the paper and reproduction of the letters and membership forms.

In Dorval and Lachine the Society's Membership Committee consists of Mr. K. Dauphinee, ME 1-6658, Mrs. P. J. Smith ME 7-9337 and Mrs. K.D. Sheldrick, ME 7-7230.

Mrs. MacFarlane heads music group

Subscribers to the Lakeshore Chamber Music Concerts have met and under the chairmanship of Professor H.R.C. Avison formed a Lakeshore Chamber Music Society.

A constitution has been adopted, plans prepared for the coming season and an executive board chosen consisting of: President, Mrs. D. L. MacFarlane; Vice Presidents, G. Simons and H. Hollander; Secretary, Miss G. Sydney; Treasurer, E. A. Kangas, and directors F. W. Morgan, Dr. R. Knowles, Mrs. H.D. Morrison, Mrs. M.A. MacDonal.

It was agreed that the primary object of the society be to arrange for chamber music of the highest standard in a setting consistent with its character.

Proposed concerts for the coming season will comprise a piano trio, chamber music group, lieder recital and, depending on support, a solo instrumentalist. Another aim of the society is to enable Lakeshore residents to hear the works of Canadian contemporary composers and it is hoped that these will be included at each concert. Similar to last season the concerts will be held in a church hall in Ste. Anne de Bellevue. Since there will be no tickets sold at the door, admission to the concerts will be by membership subscription only.

A membership campaign has been planned to commence early in May at which time membership will be available to all those interested in joining the Lakeshore Chamber Music Society.

Series On Camping At The Local 'Y'

The Family Tent Camping Committee of the Lachine-Dorval YMCA has started an interesting three-week short series which got underway Monday evening, at the Lachine-Dorval YMCA.

The series, which will be held on consecutive Mondays, is set up on the basis of short lectures, demonstrations and informal discussions dealing with many aspects of family tent camping. First dealt primarily with camping equipment.

May 9th the program will deal with where campers can go to enjoy their summer holiday. The last session, which is scheduled for Monday May 16th, will focus on how to set up a camp, selecting and cooking food, camp house-keeping and other aspects of getting the best out of your camping holiday. Refreshments will be served at each of the three Monday night sessions.

Blue Sky Revue

The Blue Sky Revue will be presented by the Cubs and Scouts of North Strathmore and North Pine Beach at Surrey Gardens School on Friday, May 27th at 8:00 p.m. Here is a show that will be enjoyed by all, and parents are particularly urged to bring their children.

Dorval Municipal Golf Course

Opening May 14th, 1960

The Dorval Recreation Association are pleased to announce that plans for the opening of the Dorval Municipal Golf Course on Saturday May 14th can now be confirmed.

Erection of the new club house is now underway and contrary to any reports regarding availability of the land from The Department of Transport, play is expected to begin with seven holes in operation.

Work on the addition of two extra holes is in progress and it is expected that members will be able to use these before the end of June.

Membership applications have been forwarded to all those who applied by writing to P.O. Box 85 Lachine.

You don't say, Lady Pamela!

Oh, but I very definitely do, Your Grace.

You mean to tell me this charming Lakeshore city has more to offer shoppers than, say, the "big city" stores?

Infinitely more, my dear. Why, I never go shopping in town anymore!

But it seems incredulous, Lady Pamela, that we might expect the same scope and quality in Dorval as we see, for example, on Bond Street or in Continental centres.

Incredulous but true, Claude. Y'see, most discriminating people have moved to Dorval from the hurly burly of the city, and Dorval merchants - charming chaps, by the way - have gauged both their quality and their prices to giving the very most for the very least. Really, dear boy, you must join me on my shopping tour today. You'll be jolly well astounded.

Capital! Lady Pamela, I'll call the coach and fours. Nonsense, Your Grace. Let's walk. There's so much to see in the Dorval shops, one should take one's time.

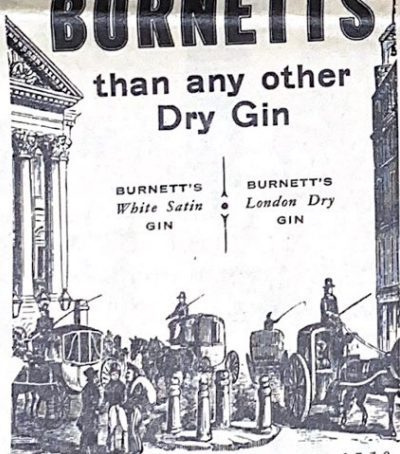

SHOPPING IN DORVAL IS LEISURELY AND REWARDING. FOR REAL VALUES PATRONIZE YOUR DORVAL MERCHANT.

RED PURSES went to a number of Dorval homes last week accompanying the announcement of the Home and School Meeting at Dorval Gardens School. When the purses are turned in they will contain money set aside by individuals who have carried out the austerity idea in foregoing luxuries and making the sacrifices in money for the United Nations Commission for Refugees. The Red Purse idea, a scheme which can be carried out by any organization, is one of the projects of the Montreal Branch of the United Nations Association, which is spearheading the work of the Montreal Campaign for Refugees.

NINETY-FIVE, May 8, Mr. F. Hill, father of Mr. F.L. Hill and Mrs. G.M. McNaughton, Allard Ave. A man whose colorful career includes 46 years of army service, he is possibly the only man in Canada who is entitled to wear two Meritorious Service Medals, one British and one Canadian, each representing 21 years of army service. He was presented to five generations of British Royalty during his army career and was decorated for personal service to Queen Victoria . . . . Three birthdays on May 2 at the Doyle home, Violet Crescent, for the three J.W. Doyleys, Joseph William Doyle, and his sons James William and John Wesley . . . . . Another interesting coincidence in this neighbourhood, at 106 and 108 Ferndale! These two homes occupied by two sisters, Mrs. Basil Lyman and Mrs. Robert Laberge, married at a double wedding ceremony at Presentation Church, were originally occupied by two sisters also married at a double wedding ceremony, in Lachine.

EVENTS. Apparently a well known name, it got one of the best laughs of the evening at the Fossils Revue, WHO'S AT SEA, when it was unveiled "at the grand opening of a Market Place in Cairo" — STEINBERGS! And Character hit of the evening in this show, Jos Watson, as the spinster and woman of culture . . . . Spinners and signal flags were flying at the Windsor Hotel last Friday. At the Royal St. Lawrence Yacht Club Ball, where the plans and model of the new club were on display, members could almost imagine that the new Club House was a reality. Next Ball on the beautiful shores of Lake St. Louis? . . . . Brownies, Guides and their mothers will be attending a dinner at St. Marks Church, May 19, tickets to be reserved as soon as possible . . . . Dorval Bowling League's putting their top players into an inter-league playoff, starting May 4, Parish Centre Bowling Alleys . . . . The Dorval Police Ambulance was rushed to the scene of an accident last week when the two year old son of Mr. and Mrs. V. Campbell, Garden Crescent, fell from a second storey window and was critically injured.

GOOD WEEKEND — FOR DOGS. There was a Poodle Club of Quebec Show at the Parish Centre in Dorval last Saturday. Brandy, a Doberman Pinscher belonging to Mrs. G. Layton, Dorval, pictured in the Gazette prior to the all breed championship show, sponsored by the Ladies Kennel Club of Canada in the Town of Mount Royal . . . . And harassed dogs of all breeds were pleased to see announced in the daily papers, the opening of a Puppygarten, six week course in obedience for puppies, April 20.

DORVAL, OLD AND NEW. When you look at a map of Dorval you see between Lilac and Tulip Avenues the outline of streets curving in a vaguely familiar pattern. Did you know that a second "Versailles Gardens" was once the plan for this section of Dorval. Mr. Marselles who brought back from France the dream of a garden-like city, bought this land and laid out the streets. Miss Germaine Racine was reminiscing last week about the street signs with their flowery names that stood in the open fields when she played there as a child. Today's streets follow the old plan, and the ambition to have Dorval "The Garden City" also remains.

Miss Racine had some time to talk about the Old Dorval — on her first day away from the Dorval Lingerie Shop which, for health reasons, she has had to give up, and which is now managed by Miss H. Verrier, her partner. Leaving the Lingerie Shop after fourteen years in business there means the end of two generations of business for the Racine family, on the Lakeshore Road.

One of the first stores in Dorval, located in a building which was originally the first school house in Dorval, and which is now occupied by Turcotte's Store, was owned by Mr. G. Racine. Now in his 85th year, Mr. Racine was smiling over memories which went back to days in Pointe Claire when he refused to help out a motorist who ran out of gas late at night after an adventurous trip around the island; he considered it just too dangerous to handle the gas at that hour of the night. In 1920 when he opened the store in Dorval, there were no other buildings between their store and Decarie Street; they were the first to sell ice cream and gasoline in the stretch between Stony Point and Pointe Claire; the toll gates had just been removed from the road along the lake. The store opening and closing times in those days would stagger the strongest proponent of Shopping Centre hours — five in the morning and twelve midnight in the summer.

As a child, Miss Racine said, her job was to look after the younger members of the family. The fields of tomatoes and corn of the St. Onge farm were their parks, and the hills where our houses now stand, their playgrounds. Their first home, on Martin Avenue, was purchased because of its location on a winding creek (now disappeared) where the canoes and boats came up from the lake. One of her first memories is of the new bells in the Presentation Church, ringing for the first time.

Dorval, like all cities, yields to change and growth. The old days are gone, the open fields, the rustic village, the summer resort atmosphere. The new Dorval lies in the city we beautify.

their car, and, recently, it has become the practice, right across the continent, for families to shop together in the evening. This has come about through the mechanization of our modern life and the decrease in size of the modern family unit. In the old days, some member of the large family went shopping in the morning for fresh food, whereas now, with frozen foods, such shopping can be done at any time of the day. Nowadays many small family units have no close relative to act as an in-built baby sitter and, consequently, the whole family gets into the family car and drives to the nearest shopping centre where they can park, the children can play on apparatus which is supplied by the centre, and the parents can go about their shopping together. In many cases the wife is also employed in business during the day and thus can only shop in the evening. Therefore, modern progress has brought about a dynamic change in our living habits and one of the unfortunate groups to suffer inevitably from this change is that of the small shop owners.

I sympathize with the small shop keeper who has a limited staff and a shop without adequate parking facilities nearby. He has been caught in the march of progress just as many other workers have been caught by the trend to mechanization and automation in our present-day mechanical existence. This is not a new situation, as any student of history will remember from the cotton mill riots of over a century ago. We cannot stop progress or the march of events. The best we can do is to endeavour to institute measures of control which will cause the least suffering to the least number of people. It is profoundly to be hoped that we will be able to find some happy solution to this pressing problem of the small shop owner, so that he does not face a serious loss of revenue and so that he may continue to serve his neighbors as he has done so well and for so many years in the past. We hope to find, in a spirit of cooperation and good will, some means of overcoming this difficulty.

SUMMER OPERATIONS FOR TCA

Trans-Canada Air Lines will operate one daily DC-8 jet flight and four daily Super Constellation flights across the continent this summer, providing Canadians with the greatest trans-continental capacity in its 23-year history.

In addition, the airline will provide daily trans-continental service with four Viscount and two NorthStar flights, according to the new summer schedule.

This means more than 750 seats daily in each direction across the country.

The jet service, which began April 1, operates Montreal - Toronto - Vancouver. A second DC-8 jet flight, planned for later this year, will include Winnipeg.

TCA will introduce tourist service to Saint John, N.B., this summer for the first time, using North Star aircraft.

On the North Atlantic, the airline will offer in conjunction with BOAC some 25 round trip flights a week, representing more than 3,000 seats in each direction and over 100 tons of freight capacity.

Jet service with the giant 550-mile-an-hour, 127-passenger DC-8's will begin between Montreal and the United Kingdom June 1 on a daily basis and between Toronto and the United Kingdom direct on June 15.

Included in the trans-Atlantic summer schedule are two weekly Super Constellation flights, which began April 2, linking Halifax and the United Kingdom direct.

TCA will also operate five weekly round-trip Super Constellation flights this summer between Montréal and/or Toronto to continental European cities - Vienna, Dusseldorf, Zurich, Brussels and Paris - and a weekly Hudson Bay service with Super Constellations from Vancouver through Winnipeg to the United Kingdom.

On southern routes, TCA will operate a daily North Star tourist service between Toronto and Tampa during the summer for the first time. A weekly service will be provided by Super Constellations carrying both first class and tourist class passengers from Canada to Bermuda, Barbados and Trinidad.

Old Metropolitan Road Is Re-Named

Almost unnoticed, the old Metropolitan Boulevard stretching from the Ste. Anne de Bellevue to Lachine, has been re-named.

Henceforth it will be known officially as Montreal - Ste. Anne's Boulevard, to save confusion with the new, controversial Metropolitan Blvd.

Hopes have been raised that the cost of building and maintenance may, in part, be taken over by the Provincial Government. Nothing official has yet been done, but in face of the current controversy and complaints from municipalities, it seems likely that an announcement from Quebec can be expected.

Lakeshore Variety Players auditions set for May 11

The "Lakeshore Variety Players" will present a musical variety show entitled "Great Granlie Wore Tights" -- a musical review of 1895-1960. The show is being written and compiled by Irene Carmen, Barbara Cox, Merrill Tuck, Ralph England, Ross Bullock, and Pat Cornish.

Auditions will be held in the Dorval Recreation Centre May 11 at 8 p.m. sharp. The producers are looking for all types of personnel -- singers, dancers, pianists, -- popular and classical; as well as comedians and actors.

Further information may be obtained from Pat Cornish, ME 1-3994.

TO THE CITIZENS OF DORVAL PROCLAMATION

As Mayor of the City of Dorval I call upon all members of this community to give their wholehearted support to the improvement of their property and to do their utmost to endorse in every way the BEAUTIFICATION WEEK which has been proclaimed and which has been sponsored so successfully for so many years by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Clean-up, light-up, plant-up and paint-up, these are the forms that the beautification should take. I urge all citizens to make every effort to follow them.

R. JOHN PRATT
Mayor

TO THE CITIZENS OF DORVAL PROCLAMATION

As Mayor of the City of Dorval, I call upon all members of this community to give their wholehearted support to the Bicycle Safety Campaign which starts here this week under the direction of our Dorval Safety Council, in a "BICYCLE SAFETY DAY" on May 7th and finals on May 14th, 1960.

The purpose of the program is to reduce the hazards of Bicycle riding for both young riders and others by training our boys and girls in riding skills, and in the observance of safety and traffic rules.

Increasing congestion of our streets and highways daily increases the hazards for the careless or unskilled. Hundreds of deaths and thousands of non-fatal injuries each year, due to collisions between bicycles and motor vehicles, alone, warn of the need of such a program.

In particular, I call for the support of parents and their children who ride bicycles. I urge that parents encourage their children to enroll in the program, and I urge the children to enroll for their own and others' safety.

R. JOHN PRATT
Mayor

This is a model of the set of "The Petrified Forest" by Robert E. Sherwood, being presented by the Drama Society, Cedar Park United Church in the Church Hall, Lakeview Avenue, Pointe Claire, May 12, 13, 14. Bob Gourley is the Director and the designer of this set.

By Mary Ellen Scott

This seems to have been the week for art exhibits all along the Lakeshore, and artists from Dorval have been taking part in all of them, from the exhibit and sale held in St. John the Baptist Church, Pointe Claire to the Blossom Tea in Dorval United Church where were displayed the canvases of Mrs. Liversidge, one of our Senior Citizens, with their meticulously fine brush strokes.

By far the most exciting show was, of course that of the Lakeshore Association of Artists, held for the second time in the City Hall in Pointe Claire. The opening was charmingly formal in the large well-lighted room with John Collins of the Gazette introducing Her Worship Mayor Urquhart who said in part: "The value of this group cannot be measured in figures but in many other ways — in the rise in our cultural level — it is an inspiration to all of us."

The variety and vigor of the styles displayed was impressive, and there was a wide range of subjects, and even of geographical scope, although landscapes in the environs of Montreal Island and the Laurentians predominated. The tried and true exhibitors with whose work we have become familiar elsewhere were present. L. Eastman Coates' "Winter Artistry on L'Assomption River" has captured an ice-coated scene of misty cold with delicate skill. Henry J.

Simpkins' "Scott" is a delightful portrait of an almost too handsome child; his "Back of the Big Top" gives the feel of a circus to perfection — the elephants are particularly well done. P. Roy Wilson's "Le Village" was a highlight of the exhibition, preserving as it does in faultless line, softly tinted, the lines of historic old buildings, and because of the note concerning the painting, which tells that it is a water-colour of an actual model village designed by the artist who is also an architect, as a Canadian Williamsburg. It was to have been built atop Mount Royal for the Tercentenary Celebration in 1942. The Model is twenty by eight feet and contains thirty-five examples of French Canadian Architecture taken from actual buildings in the province standing at that time and since lost to Posterity due to "improvements". Let us hope that the actual building of "Le Village", postponed on account of the war, may one day indeed be accomplished.

One would like to dwell on John Collin's water-colour of the doorway of a house fallen a prey to the wreckers, entitled "End of a Victorian"; one is fascinated by Jack Barwick's triangular treatment in blues, browns and reds of his "Yachts and Winter Canoes"; one would like to drink in the still peace of Tom Hall's lovely water colour "Newago".

Two most refreshing contributions to the variety in style are evinced by two young women artists. Lucie Simons' still lifes with their naive lack of perspective and their clear bright colours are delightfully apart from, and yet anchored in, reality. M.D. Bellerby's "Monday's Child" is a soft delicate pastel in oil with a dream-like quality about it. In sharp contrast is her tall, thin "Street in Quebec", with its gaunt horse and two-wheeled cart and its sharp contrasts of shadow and light. Those who participated in an exhibition of such high calibre must feel great satisfaction in having done so.

DORVAL UNITED CHILDREN'S CHOIR.

The Junior Choir Festival of the United Churches in Montreal was held on Saturday in St. James United Church with 18 choirs participating. The Dorval Church Junior Choir under the direction of Isobel Makla came second in Class B for the second year running. Cedar Park Junior Choir placed first in Class B, for the second time also. Our manag. agree with the adjudication which was ad detailed, as wise and as fair as it could be. However, Dorvalites would like to see the Dorval choir make the best possible use of its talents, not so as to win — that is not important, but to justify the love and time and talent expended on it by its excellent director, Mrs. Makin and for the glory of God.

Dorval Junior Choir practices one evening a week and sings in the church on rare occasions. The winning choir practices one evening a week and is the church choir for the 9:30 service every Sunday morning. This performance is worth at least two choir rehearsals. Again, would-be members of this choir submit to a voice test before being permitted to join. In Dorval we are more democratic with results — one might expect.

'Dear Charles' At Lachine High

"Dear Charles" the comedy being presented by The E/Z Players of Greater Montreal at the Lachine High School Auditorium this evening and tomorrow evening, is not to be regarded as a sequel to "Dear Ruth" the World War II comedy Norman Krasna, nor "Dear Brutus," the World War I fantasy by Sir James M. Barrie.

Krasna's title stemmed from the fact that his play's action derived from the letters a soldier had written from Europe to his girl back home. Barrie's title derived from the speech in Shakespeare's "Julius Caesar" which goes, "the fault, dear Brutus, is not in our stars, but in ourselves, that we are underlings."

In the play to be seen at the Lachine High School Auditorium,

Sherbrooke St., Lachine, the title derives from the repeated reference by Valda Dalton starring in the comedy as the unmarried mother of three near-grown children, to a man in a portrait that she had bought in an antique shop, as the departed father of her children -- "Dear Charles."

Names Invited For Streets

Dorval City Council is seeking the co-operation of every resident in re-naming some of its streets. Inquiries have already been made suggesting the formation of a committee for this purpose. Council has turned this down.

Mrs. Doreen Day, who addressed the Hampstead Branch, Women's Auxiliary of the Montreal General Hospital Wednesday, at Queen Mary Road United Church.

HOME SCHOOL GROUP CONVENE

Leadership training will be the main theme of the 16th annual provincial conference of the Quebec Federation of Protestant Home and School Associations to be held in Montreal May 6 and 7.

"Many changes are taking place in education and we must develop leaders who will give our membership the leadership needed to keep pace with these changes", Jack W. Chivers, of Montreal, the federation president, stated today in urging active participation in the conference.

Some 425 delegates and observers from throughout the province are expected to attend the conference, which has been expanded to two full days, and which will be held in the Physical Sciences Building of McGill University.

The provincial Home and School federation comprises 184 associations throughout Quebec with an overall membership of some 28,000 families -- representing over 70 per cent of the families with children attending schools attached to the Protestant school system, E. Michael Berger, conference chairman, pointed out.

Mr. Bergersald the meeting has been expanded from its previous day-and-a-half length at the request of the member associations, who wanted more time for workshops and discussion of mutual problems by the delegates from the various associations.

This year's workshop will be devoted to leadership training. Another highlight of the meeting will be "Operation Bootstraps", a project designed to delve into the scope, purpose and function of education. There will also be exhibits dealing with federation activities.

The conference will wind-up on Saturday night, May 7 with the annual dinner, at which the guest speaker will be Dr. David L. Thompson, vice-principal of McGill University.

Elaborating on the need for effective leadership, Mr. Chivers stated that "now, as never before, we parents have a serious responsibility to understand the methods and purposes of our school system."

"We must develop a leadership that will help Home and School grow in relationship with the ever-increasing importance of education. We must follow through on all the changes or we will never gain full benefit from them," he observed.

2 Anniversaries Planned In '61

An historic-site plaque will be erected in Baie d'Urfe next year, according to an announcement from the Commission des Monuments et Sites Historiques ou Artistiques, Musée de la Province, Québec.

Next year, 1961, Baie d'Urfe celebrates two anniversaries -- the 50th anniversary of its incorporation as a town, and 275th anniversary of the coming to Baie d'Urfe of Francois - Saturin Lascaris d'Urfe, Sulpician missionary after whom the community is named.

Strathmore United Filled For Services

Strathmore United Church was filled for afternoon and evening services for the visit of Miss Gladys Aylward, internationally-renowned missionary who spent 30 years in China in dedicated missionary service.

In the afternoon, Miss Aylward spoke to the children of the district, recalling incidents while working among the children in China and of her great adventure during many weeks during which she led nearly a hundred children across many miles of rough country to safety from enemy bombing and destruction.

At the evening service, Miss Aylward referred to the power of Christ and to His promise that the power is passed on to all who accept and follow him. Her own life of powerful service, the story of which she related to her audience, is eloquent and living testimony to the truth of the gospel.

Hervisit was sponsored by World Vision Inc., an international service organization, which supports missionary and welfare work throughout the world. Miss Aylward's remarkable life-story has been brought to the attention of many through the book entitled "The Small Woman" and the film "The Inn of the Sixth Happiness" which was based on her book.

A titre de Maire de la Cité de Dorval, je demande à tous les citoyens d'appuyer de façon sincère la Campagne de Sécurité du Cyclisme qui débute ici cette semaine sous les auspices du Conseil de Sécurité de Dorval une "JOURNÉE DE SÉCURITÉ DU CYCLISME" en date du 7 mai, et les finales le 14 mai 1960.

Cette campagne a pour but de réduire les hasards du cyclisme aussi bien pour les jeunes que les plus âgés, en entraînant nos garçons et filles à conduire avec habileté et à observer les lois de la circulation et de la prudence.

L'encroisement toujours croissant de nos rues et boulevards augmente de jour en jour le danger pour les cyclistes insouciantes ou maladroites. Les centaines de mortalités et les milliers d'accidents non fatals survenant chaque année, causés par des collisions entre bicyclettes et véhicules moteurs seulement, nous prouvent la nécessité d'un tel programme.

En particulier, je demande la coopération des parents et des enfants cyclistes. J'incite les parents à encourager leurs enfants à s'entraîner dans ce programme et j'incite les enfants à en faire partie pour leur sécurité personnelle et celle des autres.
