A Note from Rick: Mixed markets this week at TLA. A tough week for the calf market as prices fell significantly. Not sure if this is going to be long term or just a blip in the market. This market has been very consistent for quite some time and this comes as a bit of a surprise. Slaughter cows were $2-$3 higher this week. Feeders and Fat cattle were steady along with dairy cattle. A nice stretch of cooler weather along with some pretty widespread rain throughout the area has been very welcome. For the most part it looks like we are going to have a good crop in this area. Good feed and plenty of it will be a big plus for the livestock industry and we definitely need all the help we can get. Hay prices remain pretty strong and appear to be staying that way, all and all it's been a pretty decent hay season as well. I haven't heard any bragging about big yields but the opportunity to make quality hay has been much better. Have a great week and we all hope to see you soon at TLA!
