

TEACHER APPRECIATION WEEK MAY 6-10

Teacher Appreciation Week is coming up and this would be a wonderful time to show your child's teacher how much they are appreciated for all the hard work, love, and caring they provide each day.

Being natural nurturers, our teachers find their work to be very rewarding and consider working with young children one of the most important professions in our society.

If the recent Parent Survey* results provide proof of anything, it proves that our teachers are doing an outstanding job of treating your child as an individual and by showing the respect and value of each child. The survey results also show how we at TodayCare treat everyone as part of the family.

With creating age appropriate curriculums, evening and weekend trainings, continuing education, assessments, parent conferences, lesson planning and classroom management our teachers work each day at providing the best preschool experience. From infancy to our oldest four and five-year-old groups, every teacher applies educational programming that encourages and challenges your child's potentials and prepares them for their future.

As we focus on Teacher Appreciation Week, I encourage you to take the time in any small way to show your child's teachers how much you appreciate them. Just a little note that says thank you would be awesome or even just take the time to let them know as you drop off or pick up your child.

Many thanks to all of you who allow your precious children to attend our preschool and be a part of our TodayCare family. Thank you for the outstanding Parent Survey results and comments.

Jayne Goldstein, Director

*Please view the Parent Survey results on our website: www.todaycare-phsc.com