Contributor

Frank Hubbard has been a loyal and enthusiastic fan and supporter of Marathon Athletics since graduating from Marathon Central School in 1949. He was a familiar presence at most athletic contests after graduating from high school. In addition, he spent many years writing about Marathon Athletics in the Torchlight and was a frequent contributor to the Marathon Independent until the weekly newspaper ceased publication.

Frank began writing articles for the school newspaper, the Racer as a student. Upon completing his service in the Air Force, he returned to the area and resumed writing sports articles in the Torchlight and the Independent about his alma mater. He proudly reported the accomplishments of all Marathon teams and individual athletes to the surrounding community. It was not uncommon for Frank to be burning the midnight hour writing articles and interviewing coaches well after most had gone to bed.

Frank's passion and love for Marathon Athletics has always been evident. He is a man of good character and great interest in people. His characteristics both as an individual and a teacher of 37 years were apparent in all of his writings. Frank wrote for the enjoyment and purpose of spreading positive news about the accomplishments of our student athletes. While balancing his career and other commitments, you could count on Frank to keep us up to date with the next generation of Marathon Student Athletes. Today, he is a committee member of the Marathon Athletic Hall of Fame.
