OUR STORY

Mitch and Gina Dissinger, owners of Lickity Split, are passionate about many things, two of which are food and New Holland. So when the opportunity presented itself to open a restaurant in the historic Kauffman's Hardware building in downtown New Holland, they jumped at the chance. In June 2010, Lickity Split officially opened the restaurant doors and they've never looked back.

These days the Dissinger's hours are filled with hospitality, food, ice cream and community. In the warmer months keep an eye out for their ice cream truck.

Thank you for supporting our small business!
