

FOOTPRINTS IN MARION COUNTY

Featuring

THE CIVIL WAR (PART I)

VOL. VII

SPRING 1983

NO. 4

Published By
Marion County Genealogical & Historical Society
P.O. Box 342
Salem, Illinois 62881

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Roster of Officers..... 2
 Message From the Editors..... 2
 The Civil War (1861-1865)..... 3
 A Confederate Soldier.....31
 Recollections of the Sixties.....32
 What Is A Yankee?.....32
 Van Deusen Letters.....33
 Civil War Re-examined.....35
 Measles Epidemic - 111th Illinois Infantry Regiment...37
 Civil War Letter - Alexander Murray.....39
 Prisoner of War Camps.....40
 Marion County Prisoners of War.....41
 Some Wore Blue and Some Wore Gray.....44
 The World's Oldest Profession.....48
 Grandpa Atkins and Mrs. Wormer.....49
 Reunion of the 22d Illinois.....50
 As I Remember my Great Grandfather - Captain
 Benjamin Franklin Rodgers, M.D.....51
 Sandoval's Role as Civil War Railroad Center.....54
 The Kinmundy Independent - Edward Freeman.....55
 Copperheads in Marion County.....57
 Mutiny in the 109th Illinois.....58
 The Atlanta Campaign.....63
 Alabama Refugees in Marion County.....77
 The Helm Family & The Civil War.....78
 Lincoln Detractors in Centralia.....80
 Early Battles.....81
 Veterans Buried in Marion County.....82
 From the Mailbag.....90
 Queries.....91
 It Pays to Advertise.....94
 Cholera in Marion County.....95
 Surname Index.....98

Sketches on front and inside back covers by Frances Oliver of Iuka, Illinois.

"Some of the Southern officers are resigning, possibly with the intention of taking part with their states. They make a fatal mistake.
The contest may be long and severe, but eventually the issue will be in favor of the Union."

General-in-Chief Winfield Scott to
Robert E. Lee, April 18, 1861

Printed By
David R. Blair
Quick Print Shoppe
208 Jay Street
East Peoria, Ill. 61611