Eucharistic Adoration and Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament (part one)

Eucharistic exposition and benediction are recognized by the Church and not considered devotions, but rather a part of the Church's official liturgy. Whereas in the past benediction was frequently added on to the end of another service or devotion, this is no longer generally permitted. Eucharistic exposition and benediction is a complete liturgical celebration in its own right and is to be celebrated as such, as laid down in the current liturgical books.

There is no reason, however, why Eucharistic exposition should not be combined with some celebration of the Liturgy of the Hours, in such a way that part especially of the principal hours, is celebrated before the Blessed Sacrament exposed.

The minister of exposition of the Blessed Sacrament and of Eucharistic benediction is a priest or deacon. In special circumstances, the minister of exposition and reposition alone (without benediction) is the acolyte, extraordinary minister of Holy Communion, or another person designated for this by the local ordinary. The precepts of the Archbishop on these matters are to be faithfully observed.

In churches or oratories where it is permitted to reserve the Blessed Sacrament, there can be exposition with the ciborium or the monstrance; the norms prescribed in the liturgical books are to be observed.

It is forbidden to expose the Precious Blood of Christ for Eucharistic adoration, either alone or together with the sacred host.

Exposition of the Blessed Sacrament is not to be held in the same area of the church or oratory during the celebration of Mass.

The blessing imparted with the Blessed Sacrament should be preceded by a suitable period of readings of the Word of God, hymns, prayers, and sufficient time for silent prayer. This Eucharistic blessing can only be administered a bishop, priest or deacon.
