SPRING 2020: TOILE DE JOUY

TOILE DE JOUY

French for: "Fabric of Jouy"

18th Century France: in a small village outside Versailles a unique printed fabric of cotton and linen emerges with complex landscapes and figures. The village was Jouy and the designs from this small factory soon became ones of icon.

Created in 1760 by Christophe-Philippe Oberkampf the designs were originally printed from woodblocks and copperplates. Under the guidance of Oberkampf the factory grew to a catalogue of over 30,000 patterns.

Over the centuries the classic designs have remained immensely popular, taking on lives that range from the everyday to the extraordinary. Toile prints can be found on bedding, wallpapers, upholstery, fine china, and even high fashion runways.

The prints stand the test of time as important staples in the worlds of art and fashion.

For Spring 2020 we explore the detailed catalog of fabrics created in Jouy. With our own colorful interpretation we are proud to introduce Ozone's very own Toile de Jouy.
