THIS WEEK IN REVIEW!

It's Friday and time for your weekly update on all things
GVA!

Last Saturday, there was a Mosaic Workshop with Tamme
Etheredge and I love the project they completed.

Too bad I had to work! I would have definitely wanted to get in on this creation!

Thanks Tammey for letting me peak in and observe and take a few pictures.

Monday was our first Lunch & Learn session entitled, The Great Frame Up, hosted by Dr. Betty Oliver and it was AMAZING!

Still two more to go and I encourage you to come and enjoy this opportunity.

The sessions are $20, bring a lunch and come learn. I participated in this and I learned so much. My background is in performing arts so to have this opportunity to learn about art and how to talk about art is much appreciated. Unfortunately, I don't have any pictures of us because I was so intent on the subject matter. Thanks Betty!

I had intended to get a feature section going on people at GVA but I have been busy with all the action happening here at GVA so that didn't happen.

Yet.

It will.

Keep looking for it! In the meantime, enjoy these little tidbits I gathered this week!

Did you know?

Did you know that our own Barbara Rentschler is a practitioner of Tai Chi and her picture was in the paper just recently?

Wonderful article. Here is the link to the article in the paper!

Did you know that our own Debbie Craig participated in the Honor Flight just recently?
Debbie and her husband Terry were selected to participate in this year's Honor Flight and we couldn't be prouder.

Thank you Debbie and Terry for your service.
I didn't even know that she had served in the military! If you don't know what the Honor Flight is check out this website to learn more.

Did you know that GVA has multiple off site exhibits? One of our off site galleries is at the visitor's center on Beachview. Currently, Tom Sweeney, an incredible photographer, has an exhibit up. Go check it out and if you want to see some of Tom's work now, check out his website!

Keep scrolling to check out all the happenings at GVA and don't forget about the big yART sale Saturday, 5/13 from 8 until 3! Come enjoy the cool air at GVA and make some cool deals.

So much wonderful stuff for sale and at amazing prices!

I have truly enjoyed my first month here at GVA. I have found a truly inspirational place to work and live! If I haven't met you yet, why not stop by and say hi? See you soon!
