The Old State Capitol Baton Rouge current art exhibit.

Riverton, 1937, Part II, Paintings from a Family Picnic: Artist J. Caroline Youngblood will feature work based on a 1937 8mm film of an outdoor gathering in Depression era Louisiana. Ronnie and Gloria Broadbent's glass was set up as a picnic of that era in color as a contrast to the black and white paintings. We thank Curator Lauren Davis for featuring the Broadbent collection and distributing the NDGA Show flyers during this exhibit. The exhibit runs until June 30, 2018.

Program:
Swans by Fran Swan

Fran Swan, with Jean Hebert assistance, shared her collection of "swans" with the Club. With a name like Swan she received many gifts of swans over the years. She has a TV lamp from the 20's, wood swans, glass swans, bowls, vases, candle holders, and even one from Russia.

When asked which was her favorite she said "They are like Children and I cannot pick a favorite."

Thank you Fran for share this beautiful collection.

NDGA 2018 Convention Information

We hope you are all getting excited about the upcoming show, as we are excited to see you! July 7th & 8th are speeding towards us now, so I hope you have your shopping list ready. Don't forget to send in your checks for the Cajun dinner before the Live Auction event! We need to get a headcount to our chef!! If you feel like dressing up for the occasion, we are welcoming your costume, mask, or funny hat this year for all the auction fun.

We will have a detailed list of time slots and the volunteers we will need at the next meeting on June 13th. We will need help decorating the Lion's Club for the Live Auction event, and we still need seminar speakers and collection displays, among other things. Please contact Bonnie Theard if you would like to help out. I greatly appreciate all of you without whom this event would not be possible! It truly is taking our entire club to make this happen and I thank you!

Please check the NDGA website over the next few weeks to stay up to date with all the convention news. Share the show card, Facebook page, and Yelp event with friends, family, and strangers alike:
