

Pauline Soto-Ziolkowski

Pauline Ziolkowski grew up in Albuquerque NM, raised in the family restaurant business “Acapulco Tacos and Burritos”. Growing up I always had a passion for photography, art, fashion design and color. However, on the other hand I felt a certain commitment to the family business. Which allowed me to be an owner at a very young age.

I moved to Amarillo TX in 1994, which gave me an opportunity to fulfill a dream. I became a Registered Nurse. An opportunity to help and touch someone’s life, making a difference every day. I have worked in various capacities. Alongside with my husband we have passion for volunteering in various non-profit organizations.

I started painting on various materials old wood, old frames, paper, glass and metal. I would look at my blank canvas and let my creativities flow. Needless to say, my family have many of my so-called portraits. My husband a Pharmacist by profession and a pilot for over 20 has allowed me to see so much beauty from the sky and inspired me to explore my passion.

For the last 5 yrs. I have painted various designs, crosses, and letters while incorporating various materials, burlap, lace and jewelry.

As a self-taught painter, I’m always exploring with various techniques and paints. Always looking for a way to create happiness on my canvas and hope to bring a smile to some else
