The Artist Behind the Cover

Camie Rigiroszi is an artist in Broomfield who makes mixed media and digital art. She is constantly trying new things and looking for meaningful ways to express visually what she has trouble saying. Her new favorite projects are 3D modeling, both digitally and with paper mache. Camie has won awards at local art shows for her mixed media work and has self-published three books on Amazon.

Camie left an 11-year career in massage therapy when the COVID pandemic began and has been focusing on art since then. She is a member of the Broomfield Art Guild and Louisville Art Association and serves on the BCAH Board of Directors. Camie has participated in art shows around the north Denver area, and would like to find a gallery in which to showcase her art on a more consistent basis. Some of Camie's artwork is for sale on her website. She has also started freelancing with graphic design. You can see her art on two of the traffic boxes in Creative Broomfield's recent project, at I HOP IPA Taphouse (12920 Lowell Blvd. Unit G, Broomfield, CO 80020), and upstairs at the Broomfield Community Center (280 Spader Way, Broomfield, CO 80020) when the Broomfield Art Guild is hosting a display.

Other than art, Camie enjoys the boxing workout class at the Broomfield Community Center, doodling on Friday nights at I HOP IPA, and participating in The Broomshticks' monthly Improv Open Play sessions (first Wednesday of the month!). She enjoys time away at the family cabin with her husband and teenage son where they ride ATVs and relax by the pond.

A New Program Under BCAH for 2022: Music for All Colorado

Music for All Colorado (M4AC) will soon begin offering free or highly discounted private music lessons to economically underprivileged youth under the umbrella of the Broomfield Council on the Arts and Humanities (BCAH). We believe all children deserve the opportunity to engage in immersive, student-driven music education. In addition, we will procure financial aid for children in need so that they may participate in and benefit from the many unique and dynamic music education opportunities offered throughout the Broomfield area.

We formed our committee in early 2020 after our program director began donating his time teaching free music lessons to people affected by the pandemic. After more than 1000 donated hours taught to over 60 students in 17+ countries, we decided to refocus our efforts towards our local community and share our enthusiasm for the healing power of music.

Broomfield and BCAH are both natural places for us to continue growing our roots since all of our committee members have strong ties to this wonderful community. Many Zoom meetings, late-night phone calls and Slack messages later, we are proud to join the BCAH family of programming. We are excited to continue our work for the betterment of the community. Stay tuned for student application information.

Interested in our program? Join us! We are looking for volunteer teachers with experience and a desire to share their passion for music. We are also looking for volunteers to join our committee. Soon, you will be able to help kickstart our program for the Spring 2022 Semester by donating directly to the program through ArtsinBroomfield.org. We are exclusively a volunteer-run program, so 100% of donations go directly towards music education for children in your community and supporting Music for All Colorado and BCAH. For more information, please send an email to MusicforallColorado@gmail.com and look out for future events and performances!

Christmas with the Broomfield Civic Chorus

It's Christmas Once Again Broomfield Civic Chorus

December 5 | 3 p.m.
Presbyterian Church Ministry Center: 360 Main St., Broomfield
Admission: $5 at the door

After a season on hiatus, the Broomfield Civic Chorus is excited to invite our community to It's Christmas Once Again, a concert that sparkles with all the joyful anticipation of the holiday season.

A jaunty arrangement of It's Beginning to Look a Lot Like Christmas sets the mood of trees and holly, toys and candy canes, carols and jingling bells. The Christmas Waltz evokes warm memories of Yuletide seasons past, while Come On, Ring Those Bells is a toe-tapping reminder of the reason for the season. Santa Claus Rock is a 50s-style, high energy song that will have kids (of all ages) moving in their seats.

The enthusiastic energy of the concert is beautifully balanced by the serenity and deep sense of wonder evoked by One Can Hear the Falling Snow and All on a Silent Night/ A Celtic Silent Night. Our holiday program will close with a warm, lush Christmas blessing: May Love be Yours at Christmas.

We hope you will join us for this memorable musical celebration. For more information, please visit us online at BroomfieldCivicChorus.org

Ways to Give to BCAH this Holiday Season

This Fall season, BCAH's Board, staff, Events Committee, volunteers, and partners were busy entertaining and enriching the lives of residents and visitors of all ages. Everyone worked many hours to ensure there were diverse, creative events that were accessible and inclusive. Several hundred attendees were served in October alone, which is thanks to your support throughout the year. Help BCAH raise funds so we can plan next year's free and low cost events, expand select programs, and serve the creative community. Only with your support can we fulfill our mission. And some of the ways you can support us require little effort or give you something in return!

King Soopers: BCAH has been approved by King Soopers to receive a percentage of shoppers' sales who have selected BCAH as their nonprofit for the Community Rewards Program. If you have a King Soopers card or type in your phone number at checkout, you can easily select BCAH as your nonprofit (see p. 11).

AmazonSmile: Make a difference with your shopping through AmazonSmile by selecting BCAH as your preferred nonprofit. When you shop, Amazon gives to BCAH!

BCAH Book Fair at Barnes & Noble (9370 Sheridan Blvd., Westminster): On December 11, BCAH will be in the store handing out vouchers to patrons, so BCAH can receive a percentage of their purchases. Find gifts for the ones you love and support BCAH!

Giving directly to BCAH as a Cultural Advocate or Creative Benefactor: Those who give at the higher levels may receive a voucher for free tickets to a BCAH-presented performance or a voucher and a gift card to a local restaurant so BCAH can support economic vitality in Broomfield.

Colorado Gives Day: On December 7, join fellow Coloradoans in giving where you live. Visit BCAH's profile on ColoradoGives.org to schedule a donation. And, eat at Hops N Drops on the 7th to support five of your favorite local nonprofits at once (FISH, Bal Swan, FRIENDS, A Precious Child, and BCAH).

"Yes, and..." Every Month

The Broomshticks Improv group has weathered the pandemic with humor and a lot of community engagement- even if it is sometimes masked, sometimes online, sometimes 6-feet apart, or sometimes in the dark!

Whatever your day was like, we invite you to join us on the first Wednesday of every month to use your imagination, make up silly stories, play fun games, and let go of your stress! Improvisation is the art of saying "yes, and..." and we hope you'll say yes to giving it a try!

Find specific details on each month's evening "Open Play" session by searching for "Broomshticks" on meetup.com (location and times listed in the meetup description).

Did you know The Broomshticks are available for events? Bring improvised comedy to your next fun activity—reach out through Facebook.com/BroomshticksImprov. Since The Broomshticks is a program of the BCAH, you can support them by donating—send a check to BCAH and note the program name on the memo line or donate online at ArtsinBroomfield.org.

Inching Forward with the Broomfield Spellbinders

Covid-related restrictions continue to adversely affect Broomfield Spellbinders opportunities to share stories. Understandably, many of our members have chosen to play it safe during the uncertain times, and many schools are not allowing visitors in their classrooms. However, seven of our members are now telling regularly to 25 classes in 15 schools and three senior facilities. Most of this activity is being done virtually, but a few are telling in-person either outside (and unmasked) or in the classroom wearing a mask.

We have resumed our monthly membership meetings at Brunner Farmhouse, where masks are recommended but not required. On October 29, a quarterly Story Circle at a member's home allowed interested members to share new stories with an avid audience of fellow storytellers. On October 23, a few of us ventured to Golden to attend Rocky Mountain Storytelling's "Tiny Story Fest," where one of our members was one of the featured tellers.

Perhaps the strongest evidence of our optimism is that, in August, we trained the four new volunteer storytellers pictured at right, standing between Trainers Cathy Lichty and Wynn Montgomery. The new Spellbinders storytellers are (L-R) Jan Osburn, Nancy Bradfield, Leah Nelson, and Debbie Horton. We are already compiling a list of potential participants in a training class in the Spring of 2022. For more details, send an email to WynnMill@comcast.net.

Broomfield Spellbinders is a program presented by the Broomfield Council on the Arts & Humanities and part of a statewide network of similar organizations dedicated to sharing and preserving the ancient art of oral storytelling. For more information about the Broomfield Spellbinders, visit ArtsinBroomfield.org/Broomfield-Spellbinders. To submit a donation to support this program made up of volunteers, donate through ArtsinBroomfield.org.

Newsworthy from Dance Arts Studio!

Dance Arts Studio's Children's Dance Theatre has just completed our performance of A Colorado Alphabet, a journey through every letter of the alphabet. The performance invites the audience to discover that our state is filled with wonderful places, spaces, and faces that make Colorado unique and interesting! We were able to perform in-person for two area schools and will send out a video to all others. Now, we're excited for our holiday performance.

White Christmas Dance Arts Studio

Broomfield Auditorium: 3 Community Park Rd., 80020

This Christmas classic, told through all styles of dance and narration, is the story of a successful song and dance duo who become romantically involved with a sister act and team up to save the failing inn of their former commanding general. Broomfield Art Guild: Meetings, Plein Air, and Exhibits

Broomfield Art Guild (BAG) is holding in-person, member meetings on the second Tuesday of each month from 12:30-3:30 p.m. in the Ministry Center of the Presbyterian Church (350 Main St., Broomfield). At these meetings, artists share artwork based on the theme of the meeting. Committees are brainstorming meeting themes and Guild activities for 2022.

BAG also holds monthly social sketching meetups in the evening and beautifies the community with its exhibits. Along with ongoing exhibits at iPie Pizza in Broomfield and the Broomfield Community Center, BAG will soon have a new exhibit at the Broomfield Library near the check-in and research desks.

For more information, visit our Facebook page and website at BroomfieldArtGuild.org or send an email to BroomfieldArtGuild@gmail.com.

Remembering Bill

In honor of co-founder William Kearns (1928 - 2020), Chamber Ensemble con Grazia (CEG) will soon have a series of "Remembering Bill" videos for viewing on CEG's new, upcoming website.

A series of 7 videos were recorded this past summer. These videos will be posted periodically to share stories, photos and recordings of Bill Kearns. His gift of music with his unique horn sound and interest in music of living composers will be highlighted in each video. Dr. Thomas Riis, former Director of the American Music Research Center at the University of Colorado-Boulder, joins Grace in conversations in these videos about Bill's diverse musical activities.

Follow CEG's Facebook and look for updates on when the new website will be launched.

The Nutcracker by Colorado Conservatory of Dance

Colorado Conservatory of Dance (CCD) returns to the stage for its first in-person performance since February 2020 with The Nutcracker, presented by Sill-TerHar Motors.

With ticket prices beginning at $20 and a maximum premium seating price of only $49, the CCD production offers an ideal balance of professional quality and affordability for families wishing to share this one-of-a-kind experience together.

The CCD production, presented yearly since 1993, boasts gorgeous sets and costumes, stunning choreography, and professional guest artists from around the country. Following each performance, CCD is the only one in the Denver metro area that allows children to learn choreography from the ballet, while in their seats. This year, audience members will also have the opportunity to take socially-distanced photos with the Nutcracker Prince, Clara, and other characters from the ballet to complete the magical experience. The 2021 production features international guest stars Beckanne Sisk and Chase O'Connell, both Principal dancers with Ballet West, who will perform the roles of Sugar Plum Fairy and her Cavalier on December 10, 11, and 12. These leading roles will be danced by Sharon Wehner, former Principal at Colorado Ballet and Gavin Hounslow of Boulder Ballet on December 18 and 19.

CCD is especially proud for the sixth year to offer a "Sensory-Friendly" performance on December 20 at 6:30 p.m. for people with special needs. For more information on the "Sensory-Friendly" performance and also to buy tickets to any of the performance dates, visit CCDance.org/ performances.
