

About HlpSum1, Inc.

HlpSum1 Inc., (HS1) located in Akron, Ohio was incorporated in 2014 to provide educational training and services to organizations, institutions and students, and the general public, on how to mentor, conduct outreach and enrich the lives of others.

HS1's mission is to be a multiplier, using business skills, faith and innovation to enable and empower others to get involved, by creating more "do-ers" and developing more leaders.

Our Core Values

Inclusion & Broad Based Outreach

Faith Based Foundation

Leadership

Because of our broad outreach goals, HS1 uses four separate channels to deliver messaging:

Plentiful Ministries produces advisory publications designed to encouraging others to volunteer, befriend and help others in need. Plentiful Ministries communications are primarily available by accessing the HelpSomeone.net website.

Business World Beyond the Classroom is a WordPress Blog that provides guidance and counseling to graduate candidates and young business professionals regarding business practices and acumen.

www.HelpSomeone.Net is a forum for blogs and articles through various social media on how to incorporate sustainable practices into your everyday life.

www.HlpSum1.Net HS1 also operates an Internet site and promotional materials called HlpSum1 to inspire others to join a world-wide community that has pledged to take action to help others.
