GONZABA

The Gonzaba name can be traced back to the year 1400 A.D. where the King of Spain awarded the family for their bravery and loyalty in the Battles of Calatrava 1540, Alcantara 1560 and through the Orders of Santiago from 1560 through 1596, by giving them a land grant in the Basque area, a northern region of Spain. This land was called Villa de Gonzaba

Their leader Don Francisco De Gonzaba y pico De la Mirandola the Noble Knight of the Spanish throne, Prince of the Roman Sacra of Castiglione and was named Duke of Solfernio by the King of Spain, who transferred him to Italy on the 9th of July 1716. The Spanish King also named them a first class royal family of Spain, and named Don Francisco De Gonzaba II, the Grand Duke of Spain.

Another branch of the family departed from the Canary Islands to colonize the New World , and settled at Mission San Antonio de Valero in 1773. Don Juan Luis Gonzaba was assigned Cpl. of the Spanish Garrison with Don Jose de Maria Gonzaba as Administrator, under the leadership of Governor Don Juan Goras and Cpl. Joaquin Leal Goras .

It was Don Juan Luis Gonzaba that fathered a son Don Juan Enrique Gonzaba the first of the family to be born in the new world. Don Juan Enrique was Indian scouting for the Spanish armies when he was killed by Indians. His son Jose Luis Gonzaba was a patriot of the Texas War of Independence. He moved with some families from the Mission San Antonio De Valero to the Mission San Francisco De la Espada, where as he later moved to the Mission San Juan Capistrano. Jose Luis Gonzaba married Diaz, fathered Cristobal, Juan Blas and Juana.

The pioneers were always fearful of a surprise Indian attack at night. They would pray faithfully to their patron Saint San Juan de Capistrano to protect them. Every day before dark my father and uncles, accompanied by several men, would bring into the fort all their horses, cattle, sheep, and other belongings. The huge gate at the main entrance would be securely closed and all available men assigned to guard duty in case of an Indian attack.

Gonzales is the son of Christobal Gonzales, who served in the Confederate Army during the Civil War. His grandfather, after whom he is named, was a patriot of the Texas War of Independence.

Gonzales' grandfather also served as commissioner of the irrigation system at the mission before the War of Independence.
He was holder of several Spanish land grants, some of which he earned in his effort to help settle the wilderness.

Although he has reached his 80th year, Gonzales is still active and in good health. He delights in telling of the exciting times that he had when he was a boy.

"During one fierce battle when the Indians seemed about to enter the mission and the defenders were greatly outnumbered, two women placed the statue of Saint Juan de Capistrano outside the main entrance. When the Indians saw the statue of the little man holding a sword and with one foot on the head of a human being, they fled in confusion," he narrated.

He told of going on long trips on ox trains with his uncle to several ports on the Gulf of Mexico. The train obtained merchandise for San Antonio merchants.

"I remember that the round trip took us approximately 30 days, providing we had good weather. Sometimes we stopped for the night on the old Goliad Road, which is now the city limits, and at that time was called El Alto de la Legua, meaning three miles from the rathedral or from San Antonio."

Gonzales said that his people have not lived outside the boundaries of Bexar County for six generations. He is the father of three sons and four daughters and has 34 grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren.
