Greetings from District 33

Courage to Change, pg. 62

One of the most helpful tools I've found in Al-Anon is Conference-Approved Literature (CAL). It took me a long time to be willing to open up to other people but from my first meeting, this wonderful literature has helped me learn to replace a long-established, negative way of thinking with a new, healthier, more positive approach to life and to love.

At first I used it only when I was in pain. Now start every day off on a positive note by reading some piece of CAL with breakfast.

It has been especially helpful to me to "Think" about what I read and condense it into a sentence or two. I write the sentence this sentence on a 3 x 5 card and carry it with me throughout the day. Whenever I remember, I take out my card and read it. You wouldn't believe how many times it has brought a difficult situation into perspective or offered me a different approach to a project or conversation I'm about to begin..

Today's reminder...

I have a wealth of information available to me which can help me grow ever freer from the effects of alcoholism on my thinking. Today I will make CAL a part of my routine by listening to a tape or by reading a pamphlet or chapter of a book.

"The Al-Anon books and pamphlets read each day, have opened our minds to the certainty of a better and more rewarding way of life>

From an Alateen in Forum 2022

Alateen helps me deal with the ways alcohol and drugs have affected the lives of my parents and me.. It's great to be in Alateen. When life gets hard and I start thinking about the past, all it takes is one phone call to my Alateen friend and I know that it'll be okay and I'll feel a little safer. Thanks to Alateen, I know I didn't cause the alcoholism and drug addiction, I can't control it and I can't cure it.

I remember my first Alateen meeting. I'd just turned seven, and everyone knew me because I'd been going to Al-Anon meetings with my grandmother, carrying my Thomas the Train pack with my Hot Wheels inside. It was nice to be part of a big Alateen group; We went to road trips to Alateen functions and had a blast.. Before Alateen, I didn't know how to deal with kids trying to get under my skin. Then, at an Alateen meeting, I'd hear a solution—a different way of handling a problem without egging it on. Alateen has helped me make friends and learn how to not blow a gasket.

Alateen also helped me deal with my dad going to prison. I remember a fight breaking out between my parents about alcohol or drugs and my dad going to jail. Fast forward five years and my dad has a job welding and he and I get to go fishing and make new memories. I don't have to be bitter about him not being part of my life during his time in prison. Alateen has helped me to deal with things. By,

Al-Anon helped me understand the profound concept and understanding of what being powerless over alcoholism really means.

I could not continue to live with the pain and insanity inflicted by this deadly disease. I had to allow my qualifiers the dignity to experience the consequences of their actions. I had to believe God would relieve them of the bondage of this incurable disease.

I found that it was about my recovery. Al-Anon and meetings taught me how to accept and love them for exactly whom they are. I quit passing judgement, forcing my solutions and holding on to my exceptions for their recovery.

Here for the Magic
Alateen and being an Alateen Group Sponsor is magical! That is how I describe it when I share with others about Alateen. The annual conference for our Alateens is where I witness and truly feel the power of the program-magic. I love hanging out with Alateens, and I am really grateful for the relationships I have with othe

OTHER ALATEEN GROUP SPONSORS IN MY AREA-AND BEYOND. WE ARE A GOOD LOVING ALATEEN FAMILY AND I WOULDN'T TRADE IT FOR ANYTHING. IT IS ONE OF THE GREATEST GIFTS AL-ANON GIVEN ME, NEXT TO GIVING MYSELF BACK.

WE'RE ALL EQUAL IN AL-ANON

I AM THANKFUL THAT WE ARE ALL EQUAL IN AL-ANON. I AM HISPANIC AND I ATTENDED A MOSTLY WHITE SCHOOL. I HAD TROUBLE ADJUSTING AND MAKING FRIENDS. I REMEMBER BEING CALLED "TACO BELL" IN THE CLASSROOM. I ALSO REMEMBER ADMIRING A CHEERLEADER WHO WAS VERY POPULAR. I SO WANTED TO BE HER. WHEN MY FAMILY MOVED FROM SAN DIEGO TO ARIZONA, I EVEN CHANGED MY NAME TO HERS, GOING MY "MARTY" INSTEAD OF MARGO.

I ALSO REMEMBER STANDING UP TO SOME BOYS IN THE LUNCH LINE WHO WERE MAKING FUN OF A BOY WITH DISABILITIES. WHAT THEY WERE DOING WAS NOT NICE OR FAIR. I SUPPOSE A DESIRE FOR EQUALITY HAS ALWAYS SPARKED A NERVE IN ME. IN MY FAMILY, I NEVER FELT EQUAL TO MY SISTER. SHE WAS THE LIGHT-COMPLEXIONED ONE., THE CUTER ONE, THE ONE EVERYBODY LIKED, THE QUIET AND RESERVED ONE. I WAS THE CURIOUS ONE, ... CON'T

The rebellious one, the creative one.

Being accepted as equal in Al-Anon felt warm, loving and safe. Al-Anon meetings didn't feel like a competition or like I had to prove myself to anyone. I could just be me. I was acknowledged, loved and understood. No one made fun of anyone else for not being able to read words correctly or rejected them because they didn't wear the right clothes, walked the right way or show up on time. Being accepted and welcomed into Al-Anon with open arms was a gift from God.

TRADITION TWO: For our group purpose there is but one authority-a loving God as He may express Himself in our group conscience. Our leaders are but trusted servants-they do not govern.

My interpretation of Tradition 2 is that God expresses Himself through each and every one of the members of my group, thus forming the basis of our group conscience. With that in mind, the group can move forward collectively with a common goal. No single member's agenda rules our group or takes over our meetings. Sometimes I agree with the group conscience and sometimes I do not. However, after I have participated in a decision by offering my input or voting. I put aside my personal feelings or thoughts because I trust that God has placed His hand on the collective conscience of the group. Leaders also may also not agree with the group conscience, but Tradition Two impels them to carry forward the decision of the group and it impels me to trust that they will. Tradition Two calls for humility. Since God is the one authority I must forego my ego and allow Him to guide me. I can practice this Tradition in my personal relationships by not assuming responsibilities without consultation. I don't dominate. I've found that, if I'm expected to lead, I tend to feel all important and step over the line to manage things, which leads to control. It's easy for me to slip into that familiar state of assuming all the responsibility and letting others skate free. But active participation by all parties is vital for growth in my relationships.

Sometimes decisions are agreed upon that turn out not to have been the right choice, but if I do not place blame, unity can be preserved. I return to a state of humility when I remind myself that there is no authority in my relationships except that of a Higher Power. Practicing Tradition improves the health of all my relationships.
